Bomb, Arson Enliven Visit

During Tour of Belfast Only Cheers Greet Royalty

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, June 1 (Reuters).—A bomb and a mild case of arson on the border between Northern Ireland and the Irish Republic tonight enlivened the Royal visit to Belfast.

A policeman shrugged it all off. "It's an old Irish custom. They have been doing that at every Royal visit for the last 15 years," he said.

The border raiders' targets in each instance were Northern Ireland customs posts. On both occasions the attackers were chased fruitlessly. The bomb blew down the door of Tullydonnel Post, the fire was started at nearby Killeen.

Belfast had provided cheers—not the bombs threatened by Irish Unity advocates—for Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret. They toured the city for eight hours at the start of their four-day visit to Northern Ireland.

Tight security precautions were in force because of threats from Irish Nationalists agitating for the union of all Ireland as a republic.

But there were no threatening incidents or demonstrations and the crowds along the Royal route had come to cheer the Queen and her daughter.

During their trip, the Queen was given news about the King's health. He is suffering from a slight form of pneumonia.

In brilliant sunshine, the Royal party drove to Campbell College where the Queen presented the Royal Charter to the school.

Later at Stormont, seat of the Northern Ireland government, the Queen and Princess mixed with 4,000 guests. Both planted commemorative trees in front of Parliament House.

The Royal party are guests during the week-end of the Governor, Earl Granville and Countess Granville, at Government House on Belfast's outskirts.

Sub-Station Cable Blast Cuts Power

An explosion outside the B.C. Electric Bay Street sub-station last night startled residents in the vicinity and cut off power in the Gordon Head-Ten Mile Point area for more than an hour.

B.C. Electric officials said the cause of the blast was a short circuit in a 4,000-volt outgoing cable on a pole on Government at Bay.

Radio station CJVI, with transmitters at Gordon Head, was off the air from 7.38 to 8.55 p.m.

HOT LEAD

The blast ripped a foot of metal sheathing and insulation from a three-inch cable and spattered the sidewalk below with molten lead. No one was injured.

Another circuit restored power.

B.C. Electric officials said last night that the cable had appeared sound and that they were still unable to account for the short circuit.

Engineers are investigating.

Canada, France Conclude Talks

OTTAWA, June 1 (CP)—Canada and France have successfully concluded a three-way round of trade talks, the External Affairs Department announced tonight.

The department gave few details, but it was learned authoritatively that as a follow up Canada likely will release to France several millions of dollars of French property in the hands of the Canadian custodian since the World War.

Anxiety Expressed Over King

LONDON, June 1 (CP).—Diplomats attached to the Court of St. James' said today the health of King George is causing his physicians and family considerable anxiety.

Buckingham Palace doctors announced the ailing King is suffering from a small catarrhal inflammation of a lung—which chest specialists said is a slight form of pneumonia.

The King, who is confined to his room at Buckingham Palace, was seen again by his doctors tonight but no bulletin was issued.

The 55-year-old monarch seems "strained, tired and aged," said one envoy who saw him recently after an interval of several months.

A spokesman said the Duke of Gloucester, the King's brother, may have to act for him next week when King Haakon of Norway pays a state visit to Britain.

School Pageant Spans 75 Years

Students Donna Ludlow and Ronald Chamberlain get ready for the "Merry Widow Waltz" dance number, part of 1902-1929 period in pageant program. The talented gr up ably captured mood of a period known best by their grand-parents. The production was cleverly arranged in chronological order to picture changing times through the 75-year period.—(Colonist photos by Jim Ryan.)

Depicting the "middle period" in the 75-year history of Victoria High School are these students (left to right): James Giles, Beverly Barnes and Kenneth Barker, featured in "Rose Marie" number during last night's 75th Anniversary Pageant. "Mounties" and Miss Barnes were under direction of John Steeves.

Statement Admitted At Trial

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., June 1 (CP).—A statement to police by Francis Sykes, 17-year-old schoolboy charged with murder, that he had left Laura Jean Grant, 13, "awfully still" in a cow pasture was admitted as evidence at his trial today.

He admitted to police that he followed the girl, accosted her, and left her in the field.

The girl's body was found last September 29. Two days later young Sykes was arrested and charged with the slaying.

"I started fooling around with her," he said in the statement to R.C.M.P. She was lying on the ground . . . I realized she was lying awfully still. I thought I had better hide the body."

"I think Sykes was telling the truth to a point," Sgt. Thomas C. Mathers told the jury in Assize Court. "But I don't think he told the whole story."

"As to how the girl died?" queried defence counsel J. F. Burton.

"Yes," said Sgt. Mather.

No Blockade, Says Acheson

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson said today the United States has made no effort to get the United Nations to impose a naval blockade against Communist China.

Cost-of-Living Climb Slows Down to Trot

OTTAWA, June 1 (CP).—Prices for a range of foodstuffs receded in April, slowing the cost-of-living index advance from a gallop to a trot.

The Bureau of Statistics today reported April's climb at 0.2 points, bringing it to a record 182.0 from 181.8. The gain was the smallest in six months. It compared with an advance of 2.1 points in March and 4.5 points in February—the highest in history. The index is based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100.

Main factor in this slowing down was a break in the food sub-group, after a climb of 20 cents since last November.

The sub-index dropped 3.0 points, to 235.4 from a peak 238.4, as prices backed down for butter, pork, oranges and cabbage, offsetting gains for eggs and beef.

Only other significant drop was in the fuel and light sub-group. Lower prices for anthracite coal in Eastern Canada overbalanced higher electricity rates in British Columbia to drop the sub-index 0.5 points to 146.2 from a record 146.7. It was the first drop in this group in seven months.

In all other fields prices were higher.

Truman Enters Oil Case

TEHRAN, Iran, June 1 (AP)—President Truman took a hand personally today in the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute by sending letters to Premier Mohammed Mossadegh and Prime Minister Attlee.

Reported to urge moderation on both sides, the unusual move by Truman indicated the extreme seriousness with which the United States Government views the oil crisis.

Although the contents of the Truman letters were not disclosed, they are reported to urge Iran to negotiate with Britain before moving further to take over the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, and to express hope Britain will try to satisfy some of Iran's demands.

(The State Department in Washington confirmed that President Truman had sent a note to both governments but did not make public the text).

Millions of Dollars in Aid

Financial Boost to Canada's Culture By Ottawa Urged in Massey Report

OTTAWA, June 1 (CP) — A broad uplift of Canadian culture, under government auspices and helped by the federal treasury, was urged today by the Massey Commission on arts.

It recommended federal aid to universities and students, library and museum expansion, and help for the drama and other art forms. The C.B.C. would be put on a new financial basis and keep control of radio and television.

The sweeping program of cultural development would be guided by a "Canadian council," appointed by the government but made up of private citizens.

The recommendations would run into millions of dollars over an indefinite period, but the commission did not estimate the cost.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, tabling the 200,000-word report in the Commons today, told the Commons it will be a "valuable guide to future national development" in its fields—arts, letters and science.

NO HINT

But he gave no indication of the prospects of putting the recommendations into effect, saying the cabinet received the report only today and it had not been read by the ministers.

The recommendations, he added, "will be of the greatest assistance to the government in determining appropriate policies for such federal action as may be desirable in these fields."

Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, chairman of the five-man commission, listened from a house gallery as the Prime Minister spoke.

The report pointed the way to greater financial aid by the public, through the Federal Government, to learning, literature, art and allied fields. Culture, the commission observed, "cannot be obtained cheaply." If Canadians want a more generous and better cultural fare, "we must pay for it."

PLEA REJECTED

But for one segment of the public—the radio listener—the cost of his licence fee would remain unchanged at $2.50 a year. The commission rejected a C.B.C. suggestion that the fee be boosted to $5 to meet new financial burdens.

Instead, the commission recommended that Parliament at five-year intervals make a statutory grant to meet the C.B.C.'s revenue deficiencies.

In its broad report culminating a two-year study, the commission said there is need for a greater nationalism, a Canadian spirit that would give new vitality and meaning to an "anaemic" Canadian cultural life.

Canada, it intimated, was lagging far behind other countries. "Considerable" amounts of money would be needed before she could catch up.

Inch-By-Inch Drive Sends Allies North

TOKYO, June 2 (Saturday) (AP).—Allied troops blasted north inch by inch today into reinforced Reds standing before the "Iron Triangle" of Kumhwa-Chorwon-Pyonggang in North Korea.

Fresh Chinese troops poured south to bolster approaches to the key area from which roads radiate in every direction. It is vital to the Reds as a buildup area.

AP correspondent Nate Polowetzky reported from eighth army headquarters that the build up was south of the triangle and appeared to be defensive. An allied armored force battled within 12 miles of the triangle's western corner. The base of the triangle is about 15 miles north of the 38th parallel, the apex 29 miles north.

WITHSTAND POUNDING

East of Yongchon on the road to Chorwon, the Reds withstood a tremendous air and artillery pounding and blocked all allied efforts to advance. An American tank-infantry force reached just south of Yonchon but later withdrew after a sharp fight.

The toughest fight for the moment was around Yonchon, 12 miles south of Chorwon, western anchor of the triangle. Yonchon is about 35 miles north of Seoul.

Another allied force had to call on heavy artillery support in a push north of Hwachon toward Kumhwa, eastern anchor of the triangle.

Planes directed the fire of three artillery battalions against a force of 1,000 Reds north of Hwachon. Today's eighth army communique said the artillery caused "heavy enemy casualties."

Hwachon, 17 miles southeast of Kumhwa, is at the west end of allied-won Hwachon reservoir.

At the east end of the 11-mile-long reservoir, a tank infantry force pushed into Yanggu Friday.

FORCE WITHDRAWAL

American officers, a pooled dispatch said, had hoped that would close a trap on thousands of Chinese troops. But a high-ranking U.S. officer expressed belief the Chinese were successful in screening the withdrawal of their main body of troops.

In the west, south Koreans crossed the Imjum river northwest of Seoul, ran into two enemy platoons and forced them to withdraw.

Just east of Yonchon, enemy resistance slackened but an eighth army officer said there was much enemy activity south of Chipori, 13 miles from Kumhwa.

In the Inje area, east and south of Hwachon reservoir, the communists slackened their resistance but still managed several local attacks which were easily beaten back.

Canada States Position On Units for U.N. Work

OTTAWA, June 1 (CP)—The United Nations organization was told today Canada's 25th Brigade will be maintained in Korea but that "the Canadian government does not at present contemplate the recruitment and organization of further units of its armed forces specifically for service with U.N."

External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson informed Trygve Lie, U.N. secretary-general, of Canada's position in a note handed to Mr. Lie today during his visit to Ottawa.

The secretary-general later old a press conference "Canada has done and will do her duty" and thanked the Canadian government for the first positive answer he has had to his recent request to U.N. countries to specify what forces they will make available to U.N.

Canada now is recruiting the 27th Brigade, but it is destined primarily to back Canada's commiment under the North Atlantic Treaty.

Mr. Pearson's note, looking beyond Korea, said any recommendation by the Canadian government that the 25th Brigade be employed "in any other capacity or in any other area outside the territory of Canada would, of course, require the approval of parliament."

Compensation Big Problem

VANCOUVER, June 1 (CP)—The question of compensation may hinder civil defense preparations here, Air Vice-Marshal F. V. Heakes told a meeting of the Vancouver Civil Defense Board today.

Vancouver's civil defense chief said: "We cannot begin training of personnel until this matter is settled."

"This is an extraordinary question to arise at this time," he said.

"When we should be starting our training, we haven't any protection for personnel."

The board decided to send a strong request to the provincial government for clarification of its policy on compensation for equipment damage and injury to defense workers.

Powerful Victory In Korea: Acheson

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson told senators today the United Nations army has won a powerful victory over Communism in Korea and upset Red "imperialist aims" throughout all Asia.

He said the Kremlin's plan to shake the free world with a quick and easy conquest in Korea has backfired.

Acheson brought to the Senate armed services and foreign relations committees—studying the ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur—a fighting defence of Administration war policies.

FORMOSA

He lost the first round when senators forced into the open a secret 1949 State Department document which said the Island of Formosa had "no special military significance" and its loss to Red China was expected.

The inquiry group over-rode by a 15-9 vote Acheson's protests that the disclosure would provide Russia with propaganda material.

Gen. MacArthur and top-ranking military leaders have testified Formosa has great value in the strategic defences of the United States and it must not be permitted to fall to Red China.

He explained the Department felt a military effort in 1949 would be "ineffective."

Acheson challenged the war program of Gen. MacArthur who wants to carry the Korean War directly against Red China and he argued that an attack on China might bring counteraction by the Russians in Korea.

First Victorians Join W.D.'s

Recent announcement from Ottawa that women will be recruited for R.C.A.F. started flood of inquiries at Government Street recruiting office. North York Invaded

Skeeters and Cuckoos Caterpillar Aftermath

TORONTO, June 1 (CP).—Mosquitoes and cuckoos moved to town this week. They're here because of the caterpillars. No one knows what to do about any of them.

"Instinct," says a zoologist, told the birds about the worms in suburban North York."

The mosquitoes are "bigger, stronger, more venomous than ever"—because of the caterpillars.

That's the explanation Mrs. Bonnie Swain of suburban Swansea gives for the increase in the summer insects.

The residents have sprayed for the caterpillars which moved into the area in the millions earlier this week.

The spray drove away the birds "and left the coast clear for the skeeters," Mrs. Swain said today.

The cuckoos? They're coming to feed on the caterpillars which other birds won't eat.

Lands and Forest Department officials said this is the fourth "bad" year for the worms, which made their appearance early in May and are expected to stick around for another month.

Sun Promised For Week-End

A sunny week-end is in store for Victoria, according to the weatherman last night.

High temperature yesterday was 62. Forecast for today was a slightly warmer 64 and sunny, with little change anticipated Sunday.

Temperatures are not expected to approach the high for the year so far—71 on May 22.

ALL ABOARD

By G. E. Mortimore

In the same league with Nero are the well-fed legislators of three countries who serenade the world with chin-music while millions starve.

The United States Congress decided after a long and noisy [illegible] Canada's Parliament kicked the idea around, then decided to send India low-grade wheat as part of this nation's contribution to the Colombo plan.

India turned down the offer. Then Canada made a second offer of low-grade wheat as an outright gift. India turned down this offer too. A Conservative M.P., Gordon Graydon, lashed the Government for failing to send relief to a country where millions might die of hunger.

Canada may be missing a good chance to improve relations with the Orient, Mr. Graydon said.

Hon. L. B. Pearson, Minister of External Affairs, said the Government was pondering the idea of sending health foods and diverting better-grade wheat meant for other countries. The Government would be glad to help private agencies send food, he said.

A great deal of breath has been wasted in oratory while men, women and children are starving. See the Indian famine pictures in the current Life magazine. The starved scrawny bodies and faces wrung with terror should give a severe jolt to complacent people in this land of plenty.

At a quick glance one doesn't take kindly to the American politicians who tried to attach political strings to emergency relief; or of the Canadian politicians who dilly-dallied; or of the Indian politicians who turned down the food their people needed so desperately, because they wanted a better bargain.

India's population is said to be increasing 3,500,000 every year. Certainly the country's leaders should cast about for ways of keeping the population down, and the rest of the world should help. But letting people starve to death doesn't seem a very humane solution.

Today's complaint: A Colonist reporter who just returned from a fishing trip to Upper Campbell Lake moans that no Island service station north of Victoria sells gasoline after midnight.

He claims that works a hardship on the earnest trout-chaser who drives north after work and gets on the ground for the early-morning fishing. He is likely to find himself with a dry tank miles from a service station.

For the sake of tourism, he says, one service station in every community should remain open 24 hours a day.

The other day I mentioned that the ivy plant in our office had died, probably from the effects of North Victoria smog.

A kind lady immediately left us a new ivy plant, but neglected to leave her name. According to word which was relayed to us, the plant was freshly watered and all ready to burgeon out and cover all the walls with foliage. There was even an earthworm burrowing among the roots.

The plant is flourishing. That's one need taken care of. My other needs, I should mention, include a refrigerator, a washing machine, another car and a few worn, dirty old $100 bills.

Field Gives No Reason For Quitting

Richard C. Field, who resigned from the Memorial Arena Commission, yesterday refused to give his reasons.

In a letter to acting Mayor Dr. J. D. Hunter and City Council, Mr. Field said, in part:

"I regret at this time that I find it necessary to tender you my resignation.

"My term on the commission has been a most happy one, and at all times the commission has worked in complete harmony. All decisions and agreements have been entirely unanimous. Our work has been greatly lightened by the sympathetic co-operation of the Council, the public and the press."

NOT SATISFIELD

Civic observers believe Mr. Field resigned because he thought City Council was not satisfied with the work of the commission. He evidently got this impression after recent Council discussion on appointment of new members to the commission.

Mr. Field evidently changed his mind about stating reasons for resigning. Thursday, he said his reasons would be stated in a letter to Council.

Mr. Field declined to comment on a report that he had sent one letter to the Council containing reasons and had later withdrawn it.

Oak Bay Junction Traffic Scheme Calls For Left Turn, One Light

A new traffic control plan for Oak Bay Junction may be put into effect for a six-month trial period.

City Council's transportation committee yesterday decided to recommend that a plan approved by council last year be dropped and the new scheme tried out.

The plan, designed by traffic [illegible] for only one suspended traffic light and for painting of traffic lanes. Left turns will be allowed. The latter is one of the main differences from the old plan.

WORTH TRIAL

"We all agreed to the old plan but nobody seemed entirely satisfied," said Ald. Percy Scurrah. "I think this new one is worth a trial."

Ald. Waldo Skillings noted Mr. Doble's plan was far less expensive. He said it wouldn't speed up traffic but would offer better control than at present.

Sgt. Brooke Douglass, traffic department head, told the committee he disagreed with several [illegible]

The possibility of regulating the traffic signal to change with varying speed to accommodate light and heavy traffic periods will be investigated.

PARKING REPORT

Action on a parking restriction report, submitted by Sgt. Douglass, will be deferred.

"There is much in this report of value, but so much of it cuts across the substance of the comprehensive survey I'm preparing that I find it impossible to deal with the individual items separately from my report," said Mr. Doble.

He asked that action be deferred for incorporation and consideration in the overall traffic plan.

Nearly half of all workers engaged in agriculture in Britain are women or girls.

Nationalists Will Attack But Preparation Needed

TAIPEH, Formosa, June 1 (AP)—"Sooner or later waves of Chinese Nationalist soldiers intend to assault the Communist-held mainland of China, but Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is not prepared to strike yet.

Chiang and his Nationalists—they number perhaps 500,000—now are stronger than at any time since they fled the mainland in December, 1949.

Then the future of Chiang's China seemed hopeless. But international events changed the outlook. The war in Korea brought American neutralization of Formosa. This meant guarding it from invasion or from conducting mainland sorties. Today the Nationalists are anxious to strike back to China proper—the sooner the better. But Chiang admits he is not able to strike right now.

"Six months after we have supplies and equipment a large-scale counter-offensive can be launched," Chiang told the Associated Press recently.

Estimates called conservative here say there are at least 400,000 Nationalist soldiers with weapons enough for a defensive force but not for an invasion of the mainland.

Major-Gen. William C. Chase, head of the newly-arrived American military mission to Formosa, after a quick look at Chiang's forces, told the Associated Press:

"Potentially they are a formidable fighting force. I am much encouraged—more so than I expected to be. Properly equipped, trained and employed—also properly led they will be highly effective."

NEUTRALIZED

But General Chase, veteran of Pacific warfare, was not speaking with reference to Chiang's proposed attack on the China mainland. The Chase mission is here solely to maintain Formosa as a neutralized island.

A year ago it would have been doubtful if the mainland people would welcome Chiang's Nationalists back. But since the war in Korea, the purges have come. Thousands have been executed and reports tell of millions living in fear under a regime that, instead of a better life, has brought its version of a Communist police state.

Newsprint To Rise $10 a Ton

TORONTO, June 1 (CP)—Two major Canadian newsprint companies today announced increases in the price of newsprint, effective July 1.

Abitibi Power and Paper Co., Ltd., big eastern Canada producer, said the increase will be $10 a ton.

Powell River Co., Ltd., major West Coast producer, which will increase its price July 1, has not yet decided on the amount, but its president, Harold S. Foley, said he considered $10 a ton "a very modest advance." He added:

"Price of newsprint is not in proper relationship with any wood or pulp product on this coast."

There were indications that other companies will shortly announce increases.

Abitibi's decision will make the price of its newsprint, New York base, $116 United States currency; with a Canadian base of $112, Canadian currency.

Actually, Canadian newspapers will pay about $122 a ton, when the federal government's sales tax is added.

Abitibi produces about 700,000 tons and Powell River about 300,000 tons of Canada's 5,400,000-ton production. Assuming that the customary 89 per cent, or 4,775,000 tons goes to the United States, a general increase at the Abitibi rate would cost American publishers $47,750,000 more yearly. Canadian consumers will use about 360,000 tons this year, and the increase will cost them an additional $3,600,000.

Dairies Seek Delivery Cut

VANCOUVER, June 1 (CP)—Delivery of milk every other day in a wide Vancouver area was requested by milk distributors today as a "testing ground" to cut distribution costs and avoid an increase in price.

A spokesman for the distributors said the test is proposed for two or three months, and that an application will be made to extend the system throughout the city if it proves satisfactory.

Six of the seven dairies serving the area signed the application to the Provincial Milk Board.

Gardiner Hints Profiteering In Spring Butter Price Jump

OTTAWA, June 1 (CP)—Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner said today any province could have controlled the price of butter within its boundaries this spring when the price jumped from 62 to 64 cents a pound to as high as 84 cents.

Mr. Gardiner told the Commons that the provincial governments and not the Federal Government now have the power to control prices.

"While we had butter the price remained at 62 to 64 cents, but when the government had no more butter, butter was still in the country, nevertheless, in storage—the price went up as high as 84 cents."

He spoke after L. E. Cardiff (P.C.—Huron North) asked the reason for the increase in butter prices.

"When a committee of this House investigated the matter a few years ago," said Mr. Gardiner, "it was admitted by those who now are being accused of having taken too much for butter and margarine, that they did have a margin of profit of about 12 cents a pound on butter. I have not any doubt that for the short period of two or three weeks this spring these people had a margin which gave them a considerable profit."

Ogmore to Head British Ministry

LONDON, June 1 (Reuters)—Lord Ogmore has been appointed Britain's Minister of Civil Aviation in succession to Lord Pakenham, it was announced tonight.

Lord Ogmore, 47, Parliamentary Under-Secretary at the Commonwealth Relations Office, was formerly Sir Rhys Williams.

His appointment means the Government has decided not to split the Civil Aviation Ministry between the Ministries of Transport and of Air as had been suggested.

Oddities

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 1 (AP)—Elza Gobel, 30, was brought to a Charleston hospital in a weakened condition from loss of blood.

What happened, he was asked.

"For years now I haven't been feeling well in the spring of the year," mumbled Gobel. "I decided it was my teeth and I thought I would pull them."

He did—all 13 of them—with his own pliers.

COMMERCE, Okla., June 1 (AP)—The J. Oren Mowerys, already parents of two boys, hoped desperately their third child would be a girl. But it was another boy.

"Oh, I'd give anything if it had been a girl," murmured the mother.

Just be patient, admonished her doctor. Fifteen minutes later he delivered a girl twin.

BOSTON, June 1 (AP)—The Museum of Science announced proudly today that it has found a home for three skunks.

The museum said they've been taken in by a mother cat with two three-day-old kittens. The skunks were orphaned when their river bank den was wrecked by a bulldozer.

Family life should be calm for some time, the museum said, because the thing that makes skunks different from kittens doesn't ripen until the baby skunks are "considerably older."

The Pearl and the Price

Most people know the parable of the "pearl of great price," and the man who sold all that he had to buy it (Matt. 13:46).

Have you ever asked yourself what it meant?

The "price" is our surrender of the afflictive human thinking causing our troubles. How to give up these human fears, how to grasp and find freedom would indeed be "the pearl."

The way of this liberating understanding is explained fully in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. Whoever will put its statements to the test will find this great Science of Christianity to be demonstrable.

Science and Health may be read or obtained at all Christian Science Reading Rooms. The coupon is also for your use.

Borderers Become Bed-Breakfast Boys

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, June 1 (AP)—The names of the famous British regiments now in Korea make a big impression on American soldiers, used to simple numbers for their own units.

But sometimes the Americans get a little confused.

Take the case of the King's Own Scottish Borderers.

An American operations officer, reading from his battalion order, recently referred to the regiment in an official order as "The King's Own Scotish Boarders."

"So now we call them 'the bed and breakfast boys,'" explained a British liaison officer—himself a Royal Northumberland Fusilier.

First Crude Oil In Manitoba To Be Cracked

BRANDON, Man., June 1 (CP)—The first crude oil produced in Manitoba will be processed next week into gasoline and other petroleum products, it was learned here today.

The oil is from the California Standard test well at Virden, 60 miles southwest of here near the Saskatchewan border. About 500 barrels of the crude, almost all of the oil produced at the well, was brought in by truck yesterday to the Anglo-Canadian Oils, Limited, refinery here.

The refinery will hold a special run to process the oil into gasoline, tractor fuel, fuel oil and intermediate products for sale in the province. The operation is expected to take about two hours. The refinery normally operates on Leduc crude transported by pipeline from Alberta.

The Virden well was drilled several months ago and officials of the California Standard have said that the well is not expected to produce in commercial quantities.

NOT ENOUGH CHILDREN

CAPETOWN (CP)—Citizens of Capetown prefer girls, but girls—and boys, too—are in short supply. Couples wanting to adopt children must wait two years for a girl and one year for a boy, according to a recent report.

BUSY DAY FOR POLICE

SUDBURY, Suffolk, England (CP)—Police had a busy day here. First, with a loud speaker, they issued a warning that children had stolen biscuits containing rat poison. Later they announced dynamite sticks had been stolen—again by children—from a local contractor.

The Commonwealth Will Wish Him Well

CANCELLATION alone of the King's scheduled tour of Northern Ireland, prior to the latest bulletin concerning a lung infection, indicated that the man who carries the lonely load of Commonwealth kingship is in none too fortunate a state of health. The Queen and Princess Margaret will carry on in his stead, but so important a festival visit would not have found him missing unless his physical condition caused considerable concern to his medical advisers.

It seems but yesterday, although it is exactly 12 years this week, that Victorians watched the slim, youthful-looking figure of His Majesty stroll among them in Beacon Hill Park. Although normally perhaps not over robust, the King that day was a picture of buoyant health and vigor. In common with millions of his subjects everywhere the intervening years, never more grievous in terms of stress and strain, have of course left their mark on him, and in his case to a degree that has created a certain amount of anxiety.

Observers in England have noted in recent months that he has appeared drawn and haggard, and forced to rest more often than formerly. Seemingly he has not recovered the vigor that was his before the circulatory ailment that forced postponement of his trip to Australia. Royalty is usually punctilious where public engagements are concerned and any departure from the norm is a matter of some significance.

Kingship is not to be envied. A monarch is of necessity cut off from the kind of friendships that make life worthwhile for ordinary individuals, and the monotony of long and constant public ceremony involves a strain of no mean proportions. It will be the hope of Canadians of all shades and opinions that the kindly man who visited them in 1939, and whose official birthday will be observed throughout Canada on Monday, will soon be restored to a full measure of health and personal welfare.

Still More Control by the C.B.C.

THE MASSEY Commission's 200,000-word report on cultural aims in Canada has opened many subjects, made numerous suggestions (challenging and otherwise) and no doubt precipitated a debate which will range throughout the balance of the year. Of immediate concern to the public, the status and cost of national broadcasting in Canada may well emerge as the first pressing matter. The commission evidently would increase the present control in the hands of the C.B.C., give it czardom over television as well as over private broadcasting, enlarge the board, extend bilingualism and, finally, unlock the federal treasury in so far as capital costs of television experimenting are concerned. At only two points in fact does the C.B.C. seem to have been countered in its claims; on its request for the doubling of the $2.50 listener's fee, and the commission's proposed right of appeal to the courts from C.B.C. board decisions.

It is not likely that private broadcasting in Canada will see eye to eye with the commission on many of these express recommendations. The complaint most frequently lodged before the commission was that the C.B.C. had too much control now over its private competitors; that its dictum had been made superior even to the courts; and that its day to day decisions could be challenged as often unfair to those stations which had been placed in an anomalously dependent position under the central authority. Nor, in fact, has the Massey Commission done much to change this state of affairs.

There is much more to the complete findings, however, than radio or television control. The commission was enjoined to study national attitudes towards the arts, science and culture generally, and on this score its report may prove an informative and genuinely useful guide. The difficulty here is likely to be in the matter of timing. Canada at present is immersed in sudden, new defense preparations, with inescapable things which must be done in a hurry. Nevertheless cultural objectives should not be lost sight of, even if the rounding out of such a program may have to remain as a hope for the future.

Greater Victoria Needs Uniform Postal Rate

BOUNDARIES of the three-cent postal delivery area of Greater Victoria have been out of date for a long time, and it is encouraging to note that there seems to be some prospect of revision in the near future. There has been extensive housing development in this region since the line was drawn many years ago, entirely changing the character of several large areas which, though formerly rural, are now distinctly urban or suburban and on all counts should be brought inside the three-cent letter carrier area.

The meandering line of the present boundary, with its pockets and panhandles, creates much difficulty for business firms making extensive use of the mails. Houses on one side of a built-up street may be in the four-cent zone while those on the other are served at the lower rate, and in some cases it is almost impossible to tell which is which. This is very confusing, besides causing unnecessary annoyance and expense to everybody concerned.

The rewritten Canada Post Office Act now before the House of Commons will give the postmaster-general wider powers to correct anomalies such as this. When the bill is finally passed it is to be hoped that early consideration will be given to the situation in Greater Victoria, and that the postmaster-general will use his new authority to bring about a long overdue improvement.

CANADIAN FLAGS

Sir,—No doubt most of us Victorians have seen the attractive picture of our Inner Harbor which forms the cover of Maclean's, Canada's national magazine, May 15.

Search this picture as I may, there seems to be only one flag showing, the Stars and Stripes. But this is Canada. Victoria, the beautiful, is in Canada.

ART AND CRITICISM

Sir,—In Thursday's issue, Mr. Ron Baird has had the courage to comment critically on a performance given by a local drama group. Shall I rush to the defence of these good people and say, "In the opinion of the writer, the Victoria Theatre Guild is a very worthy movement," and deserving the help and encouragement of Mr. Baird, not adverse criticism at this stage?"

Or shall I give Mr. Baird credit for "speaking the truth from his heart?"

TOWN PLANNING

Sir,—Recent discussion in The Colonist has brought to the attention of the public the industrial smoke nuisance in Victoria.

In this connection I would like to point out that the general planning aspect of industrial zones has apparently been neglected, and unfortunately some areas of Victoria are becoming blighted by industrial slums.

Fifty years ago throughout Europe and the North American Continent most business men saw in the rapid development of their cities only the tangible proof of prosperity and economic well being for all, and not the grave problems which this uncontrolled industrial expansion was to become some years later. They sought the most advantageous sites for industry without regard for the consequent defiling of places of scenic beauty, contamination of rivers, streams or coastal water, creation of refuse dumps or of the despoiling of residential areas by industrial smoke.

These same evils exist in Victoria today, and when the long hoped for expansion of industry on the Island takes place they may increase. Unless we all guard against it by some method of regional planning. No right thinking citizen cares to see any influx of capital or population hindered by too rigid controls, but intelligent planning for the future will benefit the community as a whole.

The Town Planning Commission in Victoria has a great opportunity to make this city a worthy capital for the Province of British Columbia, but as an example of what may happen without skillful planning, look south down Douglas Street from Eaton's towards Nature's backcloth, the Olympic Range, and note man's contribution—tall chimneys, sky signs and other unsightly structures.

RONALD THOMPSON, R.S.C.

Lampson Street, Victoria, B.C.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS

Sir,—Why should old-age pension plan cost British Columbia more? Any grade IV schoolchild could answer that question.

British Columbia is paying out $6,330,000 a year for old-age pensions; take off the $330,000 for the few getting the cost-of-living bonus, and you have $6,000,000 left. About the only persons that will qualify for the 65-69 old-age pension are now getting social assistance of $40 a month. Under the new scheme the Province will pay $20 a month. Altogether the Province will save about $7,000,000 on the deal.

There was $27,000,000 collected last year from the Social Assistance Tax, and they are not able to pay a decent pension or give all pensioners the cost-of-living bonus. . . .

ROBT. A. HINE.

Saseenos, R.R. 2, Victoria, B.C.

"The World Is Wild . . ."

The world is wild as an old wives' tale,
And strange the plain things are,
The earth is enough and the air is enough
For our wonder and our war;
But our rest is as far as the fire-drake swings,
And our peace is put in impossible things
Where clashed and thundered unthinkable wings
Round an incredible star.

To an open house in the evening
Home shall all men come,
To an older place than Eden
And a taller town than Rome;
To the end of the way of the wandering star,
To the things that cannot be and that are,
To the place where God was homeless
And all men are at home.

—G. K. Chesterton.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

IF we were to go out to take off our hats to the vegetable kingdom now, it would be to the grass family we should make our first bow; and after that, the rose family.

The grass family gives us our wheat and other grains from which we make the staff of life. And to grass we owe the beasts we eat and those that serve us. The grass family gives us food and drink, the drink including milk as well as beer and malted liquor.

[illegible] nance, it is the rose family that has offered us the finer things of life, and which might be credited with having done most of all the vegetable kingdom, to civilize us.

For to the rose family belong all our orchard trees: apple, peach, plum, cherry and pear. The raspberry and strawberry are both members of it. Surely it must have been on tasting these things that man, that meat-eating, bread-stuffing, beer-swilling creature, must have first conceived the idea of being a gentleman.

To the rose also belong the spiraea which right now is giving the bridal look to June, all across the Dominion.

In the woods, besides the wild rose, the briar, the swamp and pasture rose, there are such members of the family as the queen-of-the-prairie, all the cinquefoils, the dalibarda and the tall hairy agrimony, which can be brewed for tea, and which served as a pot-herb to our ancestors.

When we think of roses, our minds leap at once to that creature of the family we have brought to perfection in a hundred colors and shapes by floriculture over many centuries of love and labor.

That rose is merely the queen of a family to which humanity owes half its everyday delights.

Pacific Era

By FRANK KELLEY

IN those far-off days when trans-Pacific liners, carrying many passengers with names known to readers of newspapers the world over, were regular callers at Victoria's ocean docks, one had the opportunity from month to month of meeting interesting folk representing many countries.

It was on an inbound call of an American Mail Line ship that I first met and talked with Wellington Koo, already recognized as a coming figure in international affairs. It was Captain Lustie of that ship who told me, when I paid him the usual visit in his quarters on the bridge, that his principal passenger was an "up-and-coming" brilliant son of China, who, he said, would probably rank at least as one of China's greats, if not its greatest.

* * *

Having read something of Wellington Koo's career in English-language papers like the North China Post and South China Morning Post, I lost no time visiting the purser's office and getting the number of the Washington-bound traveler's room. Staterooms on the main deck were reached through wide passages, off which were narrower alleyways along which the stateroom doors were reached.

Tapping on the door of the number furnished by the purser and getting no answer, I was walking away when from out of another alleyway a very Oriental figure approached and eyed me as though he knew I had been seeking him. In fact, he asked me what I wanted. Guessing he was my man, I told him I was looking for Wellington Koo, who, I understood, was aboard on his way to Washington on an important mission and might like to make a salute of greeting from China to America through press services. At that the poker expression on his face seemed to change. He produced a key, opened the door and waved me into his cabin, saying "I am V. K. Wellington Koo," emphasizing the initials.

* * *

We had quite a long visit, interrupted when the liner's warning whistle announced it was time for the superfluous aboard to be getting down the gangway. It was a different session from the usual ship interview. Instead of Koo answering my questions directly, he was really interviewing me, asking me, with a considerable display of interest, I thought, a lot of things about Canada and British Columbia, mainly political.

When he did open up for his side he expressed the belief that great changes were about to begin in all lands adjacent to the Pacific Ocean, that Asia was awaking to a full realization of the importance of its manpower potential, possessed tremendous resources and a great cultural heritage. It was a sketchy forerunner of a more detailed exposition he was to make as late as 1947, after serving as Ambassador of China to Great Britain and the United States and having represented his country at the San Francisco Conference.

* * *

Having the reputation of being a brilliant student at Columbia University, Vi Kyuin Wellington Koo was a great believer evidently in what Theodore Roosevelt sometimes referred to as "The Pacific Era," when Oriental peoples would make manifest the fact that the Pacific was to emerge as a potential centre of one/world civilization and real centre of gravity in international relations. How could the trend be otherwise, he asked, when the population of countries bordering on the Pacific totaled in all some 725,000,000.

Maybe there was something in what Teddy Roosevelt presaged and a Pacific era will evolve from what is taking place in lands of ancient cultures and prove Wellington Koo a good forecaster.

Gerald Waring

Reporting From Ottawa

IF Prime Minister St. Laurent decides to cut short this session of Parliament and call another next fall, as appears more likely every day, a deciding factor could be his concern for private members' pocketbooks.

The pay, or "indemnity" that a private M.P. gets is $4,000 a session. In addition he receives $2,000 a year as tax-free expense allowance. Most M.P.'s claim this total of $6,000 isn't enough in these times of inflated prices, and the Prime Minister is reliably reported to agree with them.

But this is not an opportune time to increase members' salaries. As Finance Minister Abbott has been preaching for months, increasing wages is not the way to beat inflation. If the Government sanctioned a wage boost for M.P.'s to rescue them from inflation, what would it say to its hundreds of thousands of employees and pensioners, who also want such relief?

However, there's another way to succor the M.P.'s. If the Government prorogues Parliament at the end of this month, as rumored, and convenes a new session in the fall, then under existing law each M.P. will receive an additional $4,000, making a total of $10,000 for the year. The additional cost to the Treasury would be about $1,400,000.

* * *

There are other and stronger arguments for making 1951 a double session year. Parliament has made slow progress so far, and the M.P.'s have a mountain of work ahead which they cannot possibly finish by June 30, the Government's tentative prorogation target.

The Government blames the parties in opposition for this situation. Opposition members who threshed old straw in the wheat subsidy debate; who have lengthily aired various grievances, and who have given the Defence Department estimates such close scrutiny that only a third of them have been passed, have braked Parliament's speed.

It should not be forgotten, however, that criticism and close scrutiny are the Opposition's job regardless of the Government's timetable.

Still to be considered and passed are the estimates for some 15 Government departments. Moreover, it's expected the Government will introduce additional legislation. This could include bills to implement recommendations of the 1950 joint Senate-Commons committee on old age pensions, and the Royal Commissions on transportation, and the arts, letters and sciences.

These are all weighty matters, promising long debate. As one M.P. told me, "There's enough ahead of us to keep us here till September."

* * *

Prime Minister St. Laurent is known to be strongly against keeping Parliament in session during July and August. So, apparently, are most M.P.'s. Reports from the Liberal caucus last week said the Government back-benchers were outspoken in favoring a fall session. And while St. Laurent made no promises, he undoubtedly was impressed.

Unfortunately, from the standpoint of private M.P.'s, it's not certain that a fall sitting would bring them any more money. Actually, the current session could be recessed for the summer months and convened in the fall at no great cost to the Treasury. The M.P.'s would be entitled to an extra indemnity only if this session were formally wound up, and an entirely new one started in the fall.

The thought that the M.P.'s may be asked to come back in the autumn for the same $4,000 they've already earned—and, in most cases, spent—is enough to raise a row in any caucus. But the Government has to consider public opinion: would a double indemnity for M.P.'s be regarded unfavorably; even condemned as scandalous?

After the public outcry at the payment of a $65,000,000 subsidy to the wheat farmers, it's not likely the Government will act hastily.

Judges as Arbitrators

(From Chitty's Law Journal)

THE only argument in favor of judges acting on boards of arbitration and conciliation is one of expediency. It is said and rightly so that no one is better fitted for the work than a member of the judiciary and that if judges cannot or ought not to sit on such boards it would be difficult to constitute boards in which both sides could have confidence. No one would want to disagree with that. But as a profession we are only concerned with the administration of justice through the courts.

We appreciate the necessity of amicable settlement of labor disputes outside the courts. But that must take second place to the maintenance of the purity of the administration of justice.

There have been glaring examples of where judges have stepped down off the bench to mediate in extra-judicial matters and have made themselves targets for virulent criticism over the results of such proceedings.

This undoubtedly does not impair their ability to administer justice, but in the eyes of the public it may detract from the appearance of justice being done when the criticized jurist returns to his proper seat on the bench.

It tends to destroy the confidence in the administration of justice among at least a section of the public and in so doing tends to impede the purity of the administration of justice, and we as a profession must frown on any mere matter of expediency that tends to that end.

Exit Tibet

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK.—For all Tibet's mystic remoteness, all its ancient indifference to the remainder of the earth, something of a chill went through civilization the other day when U.N. coldly shrugged off Tibet's fall into the Communist camp. A land with a recorded history dating back to the 6th century simply had gone up in air . . . air as thin as that which caresses its peaks.

In the great building at Flushing Meadow there was more talk of the coming spat between the Russian delegation and Secretary-General Lie, and the impending ascension of Malik to the presidency of the Security Council, and the price of a whisky sour in the lounge.

The cutting wail of another lost nation was smothered in the bark of the riveter's gun which stitched one more steel thread into the permanent headquarters of the world organization—an organization which lists as its very first purpose: "To maintain international peace and security, and to that end to take effective collective measures for the prevention and removal of threats to the peace and for the suppression of acts of aggression . . ."

No one in U.N. rose and said, "Gentlemen, we make a mockery of our first purpose. When the Chinese Reds first invaded Tibet we turned our back on a pathetic appeal from those who were under attack. We degenerated back to Munich."

It was difficult if not impossible to find a single mention of Tibet in the papers the day after the news that the Red Chinese would hereafter be suzerian, or master, of Tibet, as Red China in turn is subject to Russia. Nor is there much chance that more will be heard from Tibet.

Tibet is now one with Albania; as faceless as Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Bulgaria, East Germany, Manchuria, China. However limited its people and inaccessible its natural resources, these now are added to the stupendous arsenal of flesh and metal controlled by a handful of godless men in the Kremlin.

The pathos of Tibet's effort to defend itself—it is said that the Chinese Reds won the only battle of that war by frightening the primitive Tibetan warriors with fire-crackers—has but one true parallel; and that is the benign cowardice of U.N. to live by its law.

Looking Back

Through Colonist Files

25 YEARS AGO — An important movement in real estate in the city has just been launched which will mean the placing of about 500 large-sized building lots on the market. The area to be subdivided fronts St. Charles Street and Chandler Avenue, being a choice part of the Pemberton estate.

50 YEARS AGO — A few days ago when a lady was summoned for tying her horse across a crossing near the City Hall it was brought to attention that there were no posts or rings near the municipal building to which horses could be hitched. Since then rings have been placed in the pavement.

85 YEARS AGO — Letters received yesterday from England state that Governor Seymour and his bride would leave in June or July for these colonies; also that union of the colonies is not to be expected for some months to come, although the bill is before the Cabinet.

Police Laud Spotless Traffic Slate

Sgt. Brooke Douglass of the city police traffic division yesterday congratulated motorists on their driving in the first five months of 1951.

"There have been no fatal or really serious accidents in the city for the first 151 days of this year," he said.

By this time last year Victoria had recorded two traffic deaths.

The first occurred on Esquimalt Road near Dominion on February 22 when a youthful cyclist died following a collision with a B.C. Electric bus.

About two months later on April 30 a pedestrian was killed in another traffic accident at Quadra and Balmoral when he was struck by a car.

Sgt. Douglass pointed out the tourist season is now getting under way and the number of accidents will increase as it has in other years.

Veteran Chief Of B.C. Firm Gives Up Post

VANCOUVER, June 1 (CP).—C. P. W. Schwengers, president of McLennan, McFeely & Prior, resigned Thursday from the company he joined in 1888.

The 76-year-old executive, who announced his retirement at the company's annual meeting, said "I feel the burden of a rapidly-growing business should rest on younger shoulders."

Born in London, Mr. Schwengers came to Canada as a boy and started work at the age of 13 with the E. G. Prior Hardware Company in Victoria.

MOVED TO VANCOUVER

The company became McLennan, McFeely & Prior in 1928 and moved the main office to Vancouver, where Mr. Schwengers came as manager.

His record of 63 years with one firm is believed unique in the British Columbia hardware business.

Mr. Schwengers is succeeded as president by H. A. Bestall, with Gordon Farrell as vice-president.

Directors include H. C. Ashdown and R. A. Graham, president and vice-president of the J. H. Ashdown Co. of Winnipeg, which owns controlling interest in McLennan, McFeely & Prior.

With them on the board are George Kidd, Senator G. H. Barnard, Major R. Houstoun, D. W. Atkins, G. E. Wray, R. P. McLennan and J. H. McLennan.

A ten-day mock trial ended in BRUSSELS, Belgium, last night with the conviction of Russia as a concentration camp keeper. The "trial" ended amid a wild flurry of flailing arms and bleeding noses.

Communist and non-Communist "delegates" and spectators slugged each other as the "guilty" verdict was pronounced which condemned Soviet concentration camps as slave-labor camps.

The trial began May 21 against Russia, Yugoslavia, Greece and Spain, but since the last three had invited inspection of their jails his year, little attention was paid them. Trial sponsor was the International Commission Against Concentration Camps, a private organization set up last year by former inmates of such camps.

Saanich to Join Oak Bay in Applying Honor System to Summer Water Use

Saanich municipality, like Oak Bay, will try the "honor" system and ask residents to "exercise discretion" in the amount of water they use for gardens this summer.

Oak Bay municipal engineer, A. S. G. Musgrave announced yesterday that residents would be requested to limit their watering to three times weekly. Last year, Oak Bay tried the voluntary system and was later forced to impose restrictions.

Both Mr. Musgrave and Saanich engineer H. D. Dawson have announced that if residents do not comply, restrictions will be put in force, backed up by legal action.

REASONABLE

Saanich municipal clerk John Tribe said yesterday the system will work "if people will only be reasonable."

He said residents in the higher areas have complained in the past when people in lower-lying properties did an unlimited amount of watering and drew off pressure.

"The council does not wish to impose restrictions," he said, "but if the municipality receives too many complaints it will initiate compulsory regulations."

Water in Esquimalt is supplied by the City, which does not usually impose restrictions on its own residents or those of Esquimalt.

Mr. Dawson said the new 7,000,000-gallon reservoir will improve the general water pressure situation greatly.

PIPE LIMIT

He said the miles of two-inch pipe in Saanich will limit pressures to a certain extent.

No matter how much pressure is derived from the sources, Mr. Dawson said, small-capacity pipe will cut it down due to a high degree of "friction loss."

He said the two-inch pipe throughout Saanich was laid through "a shortsighted policy of earlier councils."

He felt, however, that if residents used discretion, the pressures throughout the municipality would be adequate especially as the reservoir "is working so extremely well."

EXMOUTH, Devon, England (CP)—Two "harmless" Air Force bombs offered for sale at an auction were examined by the Royal Air Force officer who purchased them. Then he took them to a park where they were exploded by Royal Marines.

Road Deaths Show Increase

Fifteen persons died in 1,529 traffic accidents in February of this year, according to the Provincial Motor Vehicles Branch.

During February, 1950, 1,409 accidents and ten deaths were recorded in B.C.

Property damage caused by accidents in February of this year amounted to $386,250, compared with $249,630 in February, 1950.

In February the branch issued 271,850 motor vehicle and motorcycle licenses, compared with 231,304 in February, 1950.

Accidents in January and February of this year totaled 3,187, compared with 3,453 in the same two months last year.

Deaths from motor vehicle accidents totaled 28 for the first two months of this year. There were 13 in the first two months of 1950.

Total property damage increased from $589,360 for the first two months of 1950 to $814,687 for January and February, 1951.

Board Appoints Music Examiners

The Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music has appointed Dr. Harold W. Rhodes, F.R.C.O., A.R.C.M., well-known organist, pianist and composer, and Henry Harvergal, M.A., Mus. Bac., conductor and festival adjudicator, to conduct music examinations here this year.

They will start June 11 at Newstead Hall—Dr. Rhodes will then go up-Island and over to Vancouver and Mr. Havergal will travel to the Interior and end up at Vancouver.

Canadian Industrials Led By Paper Price Increase

By The Canadian Press

Prices advanced in quiet trading for the fifth straight session on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

Industrials were led upward by a strong paper section. Papers have climbed all week and yesterday's advance was coupled with the news that Abitibi has increased the price of newsprint by $10 a ton.

Steels, foods, constructions, liquors and retail stores showed a majority of gains in industrial. Agricultures, banks and refining oils eased, while textiles and manufacturing companies were mixed.

Base metals showed fairly mixed. Western oils became irregular after early strength. Golds were almost at a standstill.

SECURITIES FIRM

Securities continued moderately firm towards the close at Montreal, with trading at an active clip.

Yesterday's rise was the fifth consecutive one in the past week.

News of the rise in the price of newsprint pushed papers up with a long list of major gains.

Also joining in the climb were senior metals and the industrial section.

Utilities, senior oils and steels were irregular. Carriers were a trifle easier and banks unchanged.

Mines and western oils followed the industrial market with changes limited to pennies.

In the slowest full session in 20 months, the New York Stock Market moved irregularly lower.

The market rocked along without feature and headed down most of the day. Near the close [illegible] a handful of leaders.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks edged down ten cents to $92.40 with the industrial component off 40 cents, rails off ten cents, and utilities up ten cents.

Volume amounted to 98,000 shares, lowest since October 3, 1949. Yesterday the total was 1,200,000 shares.

The stock market is closed today, the first Saturday closing in the four-month summer schedule.

WINNIPEG FIRM

Grain prices firmed up to score good gains at Winnipeg after showing early hesitation.

Oats and barley advanced under fair export buying. Flax was picked up by producers, while rye scored advances.

Export loadings of Canadian wheat were heavy during the last ten days.

Class Two wheat and I.W.A. prices were up three-eighths cent from Thursday.

VANCOUVER SLACK

Trading slackened near the close at Vancouver. Prices showed some declines.

Trading in oils was mixed.

London Market In Quiet Vein

LONDON, June 1 (Reuters)—The week in the stock Exchange ended on quiet note with market men adopting a go-slow policy while awaiting developments in international politics.

With the trading volume at a bare minimum, many sections were inclined to drift lower, particularly gilt-edged which closed with fractional losses in most issues.

Leading industrial shares, however, were maintained to occasionally firmer. Oils were easier.

There was a lack of follow-through to an early advance in German bonds which closed with little change on balance. Japanese issues, however, were firm.

Change Not Due For Gas Export

EDMONTON, June 1 (CP)—Alberta Government officials said today there is no basis for reports the Provincial Government will make a decision on export of natural gas within the next 30 days.

In Calgary, the Albertan reported "a strong theory in some quarters" that such an announcement is in prospect.

Mines Minister N. E. Tanner, before leaving Edmonton for Calgary yesterday, said the Government has received no second "limited export" permit application such as that which prompted the recent bill to allow export of natural gas to Montana.

The Montana bill permitted limited export of gas for five years to aid vital defence work by the Anaconda Copper Mining Co. Ltd.

General export of natural gas has been banned by provincial legislation pending the proving of reserves adequate for Alberta's own needs.

Port Arthur Man First With Zinc Mine Claim

PORT ARTHUR, June 1 (CP)—Lorne Anderson, 40-year-old Port Arthur prospector, led a pack of 20 old-time mining men in a race to the mining claims office here today to establish prior right to the tax-forfeited Zenith zinc mine, 95 miles northeast of here.

He arrived by special plane at 5 a.m. A. Laird of Toronto, acting for his brother, Robert Laird, came in by plane at 5.15. Both men had staked the same quarter-section of the 160-acre property, the minesite valued at $30,000.

Bert Strachan, of Port Arthur, Fred Austin, Haileybury, Ont., and Robert Leslie, Englehart, Ont., laid first claim to the other three sections.

All the men staked their claims at 12.01 a.m. and hurried two miles through the bush for their plane base on a nearby lake.

OPINION OF TIME

Max Levine of Toronto, at the site with a party of six men, is expected to stake his claims at 7 a.m. He claimed that that time—not midnight—is the legal one under the Mining Act.

The first man to register the official papers at the Ontario Mines Department office in Port Arthur can claim the property, provided his papers are faultless and that he has complied with all the technicalities, such as the one that each claim must be 20 chains square, covering 40 acres.

The property, known as the Zenith Mine, produced several thousand tons of high-grade ore just prior to 1900, but fell into disuse later when the zinc price dropped. Some 10,000 bags of zinc ore, mined but never shipped, still are on the property and mining men say a large ore deposit lies underground.

OFFERS REFUSED

The mine was originally developed and worked by Peter McKellar, Fort William pioneer. His widow, who lives in Fort William, is reported to have refused several offers to sell it. The property reverted to the Crown last December 31 and, an order-in-council was passed which cleared the way for the 160-acre holding to be opened for public staking June 1.

Securities Markets To Close Saturdays

NEW YORK, June 1 (AP)—Securities markets in the U.S. and Canada will close tomorrow, starting the customary four-month Saturday summer recess. Most will resume business Saturday, October 6.

Markets to be closed Saturdays include the New York Stock Exchange, New York Curb Exchange, Toronto Stock Exchange, and the Montreal Stock and Curb Exchanges.

Principal commodity markets already have closed or will do so tomorrow. Outstanding exceptions on the commodity front will be the Chicago Board of Trade and the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, which will remain open as usual.

Business Notes

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation ordered another three-cent cut in its price for tin today in a new effort to drive down the world price.

The cut, the fourth in a row, was from $1.39 to $1.36 a pound. The R.F.C. price is the one at which it sells the metal to American producers.

Lowering of the R.F.C.'s price to the U.S. industry does not in itself pull foreign prices down, since the U.S. must import all its tin, but it serves notice on foreign producers that the U.S. is unwilling to buy at their current prices.

Records Cracked In Preliminaries Of Vic High Meet

Predictions that the record book would take a beating at the B.C. inter-high school track and field championships were borne out yesterday as four records toppled and two others were tied during seven preliminary events at Victoria High School.

The preliminary events reduced the field to six finalists for each of 19 events to be run off today. The new Gyro cinder track at the school will be dedicated by Harold L. Campbell, acting superintendent of education. The meet is being held in conjunction with Victoria High School's 75th anniversary celebrations.

Leading the record-breaking pace were Tony Hester, Creston sprinter, and Gerry Bemister, petite British Empire Games sprinter from Vancouver's King Edward High School.

CLIPPED

Hester clipped one-tenth of a second from the former marks for the boys' 100 and 220-yard dashes, set by Oak Bay's Bob Hutchison in 1949. Hester won his heat in the century dash in 10.3 seconds and was clocked in 22.9 for the 220. Schoolmate Keith Craig also qualified for both events with heat victories, equaling Hutchison's record in the century and being clocked in 23.5 for the 220.

Others qualifying for the century dash were David Stafford of Langley and Walt Young of Oak Bay, who finished second and third to Hester, and John Johnson of Oak Bay and Harry Nelson of Duke of Connaught, who finished in order behind Craig. B. Springbett, Vancouver champion from Kitsilano, did not arrive for the preliminaries but has been awarded the seventh lane in the final.

Three heats were held in the 220, with Stafford winning the third. The three victors and runners-up will compete in the final. The other finalists are Ted Whan of Victoria High, Nelson, and Doug Perlette of Victoria High.

Miss Bemister turned in probably the greatest performance as she ran a sizzling 60 yards in 7.3 seconds to clip one-fifth of a second from the record set by Pat Jones of Trapp Tech in 1947. She came back later to equal Miss Jones' 1949 mark for the 100-yard dash with a time of 11.6 seconds.

Other qualifiers in the 60-yard dash were Trellis Frame of Victoria High and Robin Clegg of Duncan, who finished second and third behind Miss Bemister, and Frances Gillis of Penticton, Catherine McDonald of Victoria High and Helen Nora of Rossland, who finished one, two, three in the other heat. Miss Gillis' time was 7.7 seconds.

QUALIFIERS

Chris Boyd of Victoria High won the second heat in the century dash with a time of 12 seconds. Also qualifying were Miss Gillis, Louise Slater of Oak Bay, Marge Durnin of Victoria High and B. Ross of Nanaimo.

Ken Swalwell of New Westminster's Trapp Tech smashed the other record by heaving the shot 47 feet 1¾ inches. He cracked the former standard of 42 feet 2 inches set by J. Loretto of Trapp Tech in 1949, with his first toss of 42 feet 6¼ inches. His second effort went 44 feet 6 inches. He also won the discus with a toss of 115 feet 9½ inches.

Whan and King Edward's Doug Clement won the heats in the 220, both equalling the record of 52.6 seconds set by T. Thompson of Vancouver Tech in 1947.

Starter Bruce Humber, Canadian British Empire Games coach, said the preliminary events provided better talent than he has seen in a comparative meet for a number of years. He said they gave promise of some outstanding finals today and promising material for the British Columbia team at the 1954 Empire Games trials.

Start of Record-Breaking Run

Gerry Bemister (second from right), British Empire Games sprinter from Vancouver's King Edward High School, gets away to fast start in record-breaking heat of girls' 60-yard dash during preliminary events at British Columbia inter-high school track and field championships yesterday. Miss Bemister was clocked in 7.3 seconds, clipping 2/10th of second from former record set by New Westminster's Pat Jones in 1947. Others are, left to right: M. Twa, Saltspring Island; Louise Slater, Oak Bay High; Robin Clegg, Duncan, who finished third; and Trellis Frame (extreme right), Victoria High, who finished second. Finals will be held this afternoon. —(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

Best Performance By Tierney Marks A's Win Over Chiefs

VICTORIA	17	25	.405	14

Victoria's crazy-quilt Athletics, who played with a converted first baseman at second base, an outfielder at shortstop and a catcher at third base, last night found a chance to cheer about something.

John Tierney, beset with lack of control in his previous appearances, downed Wenatchee Chiefs, 5-3, in the opener of a four-game series with a fine mound performance which moved him right into regular starting rotation and thereby brightened the over all picture for the W.I.L. trailers.

Pitching easily and with a good curve ball finding the plate more often than not, Tierney looked like the fellow who started off last season with seven straight victories. His display was better than statistics would tend to prove. He gave up no extra-base hits; only three of the nine singles he permitted were hit with authority, and he worked ahead of most hitters and showed an ability to bear down in the clutch. He walked five, but balanced that with an equal number of strikeouts and won favor from Royal Athletic Park patrons with the best Victoria pitching chore in some time.

14 HITS

Still showing a grievous tendency not to get the most out of their hits, the A's reached Lou Tost, former major and Coast League southpaw, for 14 hits and started off as if they meant business. The first six men to face Tost hit safely, and Wenatchee was fortunate to get out of the inning with only three runs.

Marv Diercks led off with his second home run. Don Pries and Gene Thompson singled, and Lilio Marcucci doubled both home. Hal Jackson singled but Marcucci missed third on his way to the plate, and the A's were taken out of what might have been a big inning. Bill White made it six straight hits but John Vick and Milt Martin, back behind the plate as Marcucci again took over at third, struck out.

The A's scored single runs in the fifth on three singles and a walk, and in the seventh, on a triple and two singles, missing the chance each time for game-clinching rallies.

Meanwhile, Tierney was mowing down the opposition. He had a no-hitter until he deflected a hard-hit ball with two out in the fourth to give Bud Hjelmaa a hit. He lost his shutout on a similar play in the fifth, partially knocking down a potential double-play ball after giving up a walk to the lead-off hitter. It went for a hit, and the situation looked dangerous when Len Neal followed with a run-producing single. However, Tierney grabbed Tost's pop bunt and turned it into a double play.

The Chiefs threatened again in the fifth, when Lil Arnerich opened with a walk and went to second on a single by Walt Pocekay. Pries saved the situation when he made a dazzling play on a slow-hit ball by Will Hafey, diving headlong to tag Pocekay going to second. Tierney left the bags loaded in the seventh when he curved a 3-2 pitch across the plate against the dangerous Hjelmaa and left two on in the ninth when he forced Arnerich and Hjelmaa to ground out.

The series continues today with the usual afternoon-evening games. Jim Propst and Jim Hedgecock will work in that order for the A's. Tom Breisinger and Mike Kanshin or Charlie Gassoway will do the mound work for the Chiefs.

STANDINGS

Other results left the standings unchanged. The leading Vancouver Capilanos went down to their third straight defeat as Tri-City Braves held on to score a 4-3 triumph. Bob Costello, a former Capilano, spaced 11 hits judiciously enough to make a 4-0 first-inning lead stand up.

Good pitching also marked the other two games. Dick Bishop pitched Spokane Indians to a 1-0 win over Tacoma, and rookie Jack Thompson blanked Salem Senators, 3-0, for Yakima Bears. Bob Schulte was the Tacoma loser, walking in the winning run in the eighth after a four-hit performance.

Gene Gaviglio was the big gun for the Bears as they broke up their game with three runs in the seventh. He tripled in one run, scored another.

Cabbies Clamber to Top With 13-3 Win Over Aces

Next game tomorrow: Butler's Aces vs. B.C. Forest Products, Upper Central, 2.30 p.m.

Long the doormat of the Senior "A" Men's Softball League, Bluebird Cabs are enjoying their newly-found power to the full.

The Cabbies climbed into a first-place tie with Chinese Students by trouncing Butler's Aces, 13-3, at Upper Central last night. Cabbies and Students now hold a slim one-point margin over the Aces and Pitzer & Nex.

Errors again played a major role in deciding the game. Aces committed seven miscues, while Bluebirds made five. The game was even until the fifth inning when Cabbies erupted for four runs to clinch the victory.

FOURTH WIN

Dixie Harper pitched the distance for Bluebirds for his fourth win of the season. He has lost one. Harper gave up only five hits while striking out five and walking three. He blasted in what proved to be the winning run in the fifth with a bases-loaded triple.

Big John Furmston was the losing hurler. He now has three wins and two losses.

Butler's Aces tried various strategies during the game to no avail. They made at least eight changes in their line-up in their effort to stop the surging Cabbies.

Bluebirds' Tim Walker, believed to be one of the two fastest players in the league, is using his speed to its greatest advantage. He beat out bunts in his first three times at bat, and got on another time when the pitcher fumbled another of his bunts. Vern Evans also picked up three singles for Bluebirds.

Afternoon Sub-Par Golf Wins Mrs. Todd Crown

Medalist Mrs. Margaret Todd yesterday won the city women's golf championship when she defeated Mrs. G. E. Harris, 5 and 4, in the final played at the Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club.

One down at the end of nine, and two down at the end of the first round of the 36-hole match, Mrs. Todd rallied in the afternoon to shoot sub-par golf on the next 14 holes and end the match on the 32nd green. Six birdies and four pars on the last 14 holes proved too much for Mrs. Harris, who seemed to lose the fine short game and putting she displayed over the first 18 holes.

For the 32 holes, Mrs. Todd's card showed seven birdies, 13 pars and 12 bogies. Mrs. Harris had three birdies, 15 par holes, shot ten bogies and four times went two strokes over regulation figures.

PLAY ALTERNATES

Play swung back and forth on the first 18, with Mrs. Harris playing the steadier golf. She won the seventh and eighth holes, lost the ninth, was one up at the turn. A birdie four on the 16th gave her a two-up lead at the end of the morning round.

Mrs. Todd won the 19th with a birdie, went two down again to a par on the 20th, and then won the next four holes to go two up. Mrs. Harris lost an excellent chance to square the match on the 23rd when her opponent took a bogie six, but she went two over par. Mrs. Todd retained her margin at the afternoon turn, and then put it away with a birdie and two pars that won her the 28th, 29th and 30th to put her five up with six to play. Mrs. Harris won the 31st with a par, but lost the match when Mrs. Todd fired her seventh birdie on the 32nd.

Commando Streak Ends; Rocks Seek Win Tonight

HOW THEY STAND	W.	L.	GF.	GA.	Pts.
VICTORIA	6	2	85	67	13
Vancouver	5	4	109	101	10
New Westminster	5	4	103	88	10
North Shore	5	5	73	88	8
Nanaimo	2	6	72	111	4

Next game, tonight: Victoria at Nanaimo.

Faced with the knowledge they must play North Shore Indians and New Westminster Commandos on successive nights next week, Victoria Shamrocks will go all out tonight at Nanaimo to take advantage of their opportunity to increase their Inter-City Lacrosse League lead to four points.

Indians made the opportunity possible at Vancouver last night by ending Commandos' win streak at four games with an 11-9 triumph. The result left the Shamrocks two games ahead of the losing side and with tonight's game in hand.

EXPERIMENTS AGAIN

Coach Arnie Ferguson, still striving to find the balance he seeks, will experiment again tonight with some more line-up shifts. Norm Coates will be back in action, partnering Ferguson on one defence combination, and Larry Booth will be dropped. Ferguson emphasized that Booth would see more action soon and that he was satisfied with his play in his first start here Wednesday.

With Coates back on defence, Whitey Severson will return to centre, between Bob Monaghan and Art Green, and Darrell Popham will take over again as rover. Duff McCaghey and Ed Popham will both get a chance at centre on a line with Norm Baker and Archie Browning. Tom Druce remains as one rover and Red McMillan and Len Scott remain as the other defence duo.

NANAIMO ON PROWL

No word was received from Nanaimo about the line-up for Native Sons, but Ted Menzies, the new coach, is admittedly on the prowl for reinforcements and there is a chance he may have some by tonight.

Indians' win last night dropped Nanaimo into the cellar. Coach Bill Dickinson was so happy with his club's second straight win that he remarked after the game: "There, I guess that will fix that swell-headed Ralph Douglas for a while."

Bolstered by the addition of Mel Jones and Johnny McKay plus better performances from some of the other veterans, the Indians looked at their best this season. They fought fiercely for loose balls, tied up Commandos' big threats and came back with a furious last-quarter rally that turned an 8-7 deficit into eventual triumph.

Mario Crema tied the count at 8-8, then potted what proved to be the winner after Jones and Lew Landess had exchanged goals. Jones popped in an insurance goal and Indians stalled although having a man advantage in the final minute.

IT BEATS ME

By Jim Tang

Report of the international match between England and Argentine in the London Times is interesting reading for soccer fans. It will be remembered that England came from behind in the second half to score a 2-1 triumph to preserve by the narrowest of margins its record of never having lost at home to a team from outside the British Isles.

While the score indicated a close game, it was anything but that, according to The Times. England had a decided margin in play and only the sensational goaling of Argentine's acrobatic Rugilo and the home side's inability to cope with the visitors' "funnelled" defence prevented a much larger margin of victory. This defence, in actuality almost the often-used goal-mouth "packing," is being employed by many countries outside the British Isles and has proved difficult for Old Country teams to solve.

In the Argentine defensive plan, the right back takes over the duties of marking the opposing centre-forward with the centre-half fitting into the general picture as a loose link when his side had the ball. When England attacked, the forwards found themselves confronted by a contracting force of seven or eight players, including one or both the inside men, inside the penalty area. It gave England plenty of trouble and they just managed to get through for the two necessary goals although persistently on the attack. According to the game report, English forwards did not release the ball quickly enough and were guilty of two much high lobbing in what seemed an almost desperate hope that something would happen.

It took England 76 minutes to score and it came off the 14th corner conceded by the eventual losers. The winning goal came from a free kick, headed across the goalmouth and then booted in by Jackie Milburn, the centre-forward star.

Offensively, the Argentine club had a precision attack which featured a mid-field build-up with the wing halves and inside men prominent with short, accurate passes.

It was undoubtedly interesting football and it leaves the thought that soccer would benefit in Canada if more effort was made to bring in some of the best continental and South American teams for a change. There are few soccer fans here who haven't seen an Old Country side in action, many who would like a first-hand glimpse of the style of play elsewhere.

St. Louis Browns, regarded as a joke in Boston, halted the Red Sox winning streak at ten games last night by blanking the Bostonians 4-0 at St. Louis.

The shutout — first of the season for the Browns — was hurled by ace eighthander Ned Garver, who posted his seventh victory against three defeats.

The loss dropped the Red Sox 3½ games behind the Chicago White Sox, who were rained out of an attempt to chalk up their 15th straight triumph. A crowd of 18,000 was in Comiskey Park for the game against Philadelphia Athletics when a thunderstorm broke half an hour before game time and washed out the contest.

ERASED

A cloudburst also washed out the game between second-place New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers with the Yanks leading 4-1 after 4½ innings. Also erased was Johnny Mize's first home run of the season. The largest Detroit crowd of the season—48,176—was in the stands.

Cleveland Indians posted their fifth straight victory for their longest winning streak of the season by edging Washington Senators 2-1. The Indians scored both runs in the eighth on a freak single by Dale Mitchell and a long fly by Larry Doby to give Early Wynn the edge over Julio Moreno in a pitching duel. Wynn gave up three hits and Moreno four.

Joe Adcock singled home the tying and winning runs in the ninth to give Cincinnati Reds a 6-5 triumph over the National League leading Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbetts Field. Gil Hodges hit his 16th homer for the Dodgers.

[illegible] SHUTOUT

Philadelphia Phils scored five runs on five hits, including three doubles and a triple, in the seventh inning to trip the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals 7-3. Jocko Thompson limited the Cards to four hits and walloped the seventh-inning triple.

Boston Braves replaced Chicago Cubs in third place by edging the Bruins 3-2, as Johnny Sain posted his third victory.

Sal Maglie posted his eighth straight triumph as New York Giants laid down a 13-hit barrage to whip Pittsburgh 8-2.

Golf--- Here's How

By SAM SNEAD

Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

You sort of "gather" a golf swing. You don't force the club when you start down. But you must apply steady, even pressure, mainly with the left arm as you see in the picture. The weight is passing over to the left foot from the right in rhythmic motion. The left side is starting to become firmed, providing the fulcrum against which the arms, the reversing of the pivot, and the uncocking wrists hit at impact. Notice that the wrists are not as yet wholly uncocked. That's right. The hands should not be fully uncocked until the instant of impact. You may not realize how great the power is that is generated in the clubhead by the uncocking of the wrists at the bottom of the swing. But remember that the clubhead is forty some inches away from your hands and there's a lot of power far out at the end of that shaft. Swing smoothly.

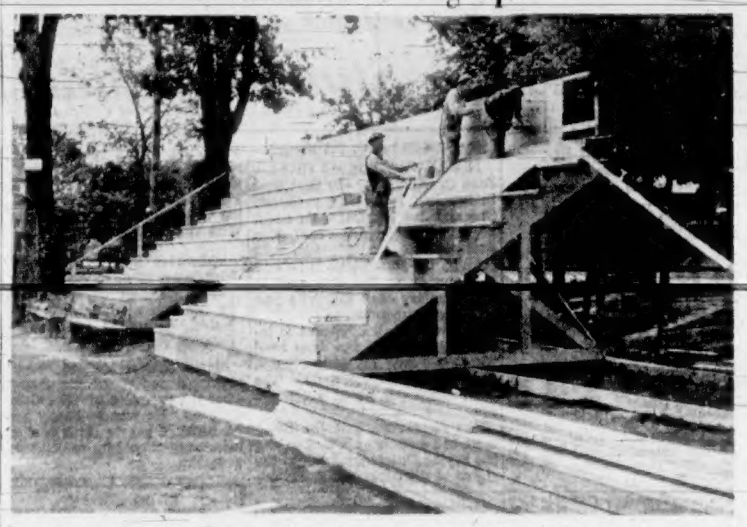
Bleachers Going Up



City workmen are shown constructing new bleachers on third-base side of softball diamond at Upper Central Park. Bleacher will seat 500 fans when completed, and similar bleacher will be erected on first-base side. City council approved construction of bleachers at cost of $1,700 with reimbursement to be made within two years. — (Colonist photo.)

To Keep 15-Man Rugby; Vancouver Cold to Code

The English Rugby League code adopted by the Victoria Rugby Union last year is dead at the tender age of one.

Falling to find any Vancouver interest in the speedier 13-man game, which proved more popular here, Victoria delegates at the annual meeting of the B.C. Rugby Union Wednesday decided that they would string along with the Vancouver Rugby Union and revert to the 15-man English Rugby Union code of this year.

Victoria delegates felt that reversion to the 15-man code would enable the Crimson Tide to field a stronger team to meet Mainland clubs in McKechnie Cup play. It would also provide stronger teams to meet touring teams, which adhere strictly to Twickenham rules.

Sid Gaunt, coach of the Victoria Crimson Tide, said last night, "We would have preferred to keep the 13-man game, but we thought it best to provide one code for B.C. There are many die-hards in Vancouver who have never seen the new code and they could not be persuaded to come and see it."

REVISED

The B.C.R.U. adopted a revised constitution, bringing it into line with the Twickenham book of rules and regulations. Main changes are elimination of substitutions as used in Victoria last year and the Australian kick rules used in Vancouver.

Dr. Boyd Story of Vancouver was re-elected president. Dick Lester declined the secretary-treasurer's position again because of pressure of business, and John Chalmers of Vancouver was appointed in his place.

Executive officers are: Bill Blake and Albert Laithwaite (Varsity); Bill Duncan and Jack Greenwood (North Shore); Jack Bain and Bruce Howie (Vancouver); and Doug Willard and Bruce McLean (Victoria).

Gaunt disclosed last night that changes may be made in McKechnie Cup play next year to make it a strong league operated on a straight inter-city basis.

$80,000 Roll Salted Away

LOS ANGELES, June 1 (AP). —Jockey Willie Shoemaker, who is only 19, has so much in the bank that Superior Court named a guardian for him today.

Lawyer Horace Hahn said Willie's assets have increased from $75,000 to $80,000 since the guardianship petition was filed two weeks ago. Hahn was named guardian with the consent of the rider's parents.

Willie, now riding at Hollywood Park, will have control of his estate when he becomes 21.

Mistake in Tickets Big Gain for Seller

TOLEDO, O., June 1 (AP). —A mistake last night was worth a lot of money to Maurice L. Ely, a ticket seller at Fort Miami raceway here.

An unidentified bettor approached Ely's $10 window and asked for three tickets on a certain horse in the fifth race.

Ely punched out three tickets on the No. 3 horse but the bettor hadn't asked for that horse and refused to accept the tickets.

Ely was stuck with his $30 mistake because once tickets are punched there is no way to make a correction on the automatic totalizator machine.

But No. 3 was Rose Jester, a 40-to-1 longshot that won the race, paying $82.60 for a $2 bet.

Instead of being out $30, Ely collected $1,293.

Hockey League Plans Circuit Of Five Teams

WICHITA, Kas., June 1 (AP). —A five-team circuit with two new members is in prospect for the United States Hockey League, president Ron Cook said today.

Sioux City, Ia., and Wichita, Kas., are the prospective new clubs, Cook said, listing Wichita as "a strong possibility."

Holdover teams will be Kansas City, Omaha and Tulsa. The league operated as a six-team circuit last year, with additional clubs in St. Paul, Milwaukee and Denver.

A shortened league schedule also is probable, Cook said, with a 48-game campaign starting in late October, ending March 1 and with playoffs completed by March 15.

Cook said membership and schedule problems will be ironed out at the annual league meeting in Omaha, June 15.

Stymie Debate Flares Again in U.K. After Disclosure of Abolition Plans

LONDON, June 1 (CP). — The long-smouldering debate over the controversial stymie has flared up once again in Britain —as it likely will in golf clubs elsewhere throughout the world.

The argument was renewed ment that the governing authorities of golf in the United Kingdom and the United States had agreed to recommend abolition of the stymie rule, after years of bickering.

If the proposal is officially approved the hazard on the green will die a natural death at the end of the year. But there are plenty of golfers in the United Kingdom, at least, who insist there must be no tampering with match play's most "heroic shot." The opposition has a less picturesque and unprintable name for it.

SUPPORT

Strong support for retention of the stymie has come from Calgary-born Brig.-Gen. A. C. Critchley, former holder of the French amateur golf title. The stymie, he contends, is a traditional element of a grand game and a shot that can be negotiated by any skilful player. The last canvass had shown an overwhelming majority against any change in the rule.

One of Britain's leading golf authorities, Henry Longhurst, disagreed with the General.

In the United Kingdom, Longhurst said, the golfing unions, not the clubs, had been consulted. He insisted that if the players instead of the unions were asked about the stymie, the vote against it would be almost unanimous.

Said Henry Cotton, three-times holder of the British Open Championship: "I am not altogether in favor of the complete abolition of the stymie but if it is the wish of everybody that it should go, then I think it is right. But the point I would will tend to become medal play —a stroke-by-stroke affair for each hole."

Former Open Champion Fred Daly thought the problem shot should be thrown out unless a player stymied himself. And Ryder Cup player Bill Cox spoke for the many who claim the stymie too often penalized a good shot by giving an opponent the chance of laying a "snooker" just because his ball lies farthest from the cup.

The stymie, Cox said, should have been tossed into the discard long ago.

Well, there you have it from the experts.

So, let Prof. A. Cecil Alport, an average week-end golfer, wind up the debate.

RIDICULOUS

Scrap the stymie? Ridiculous, he says. Whether laid unintentionally or not, the shot, he claims, has a genuine interest for the player and gallery alike. Its elimination would remove the last bastion of the once great royal and ancient game.

"The Americans and their fellow-travelers," Prof. Alfort concluded, "wish to get rid of this grand shot. Let them have their admirals, generals and air marshals. But let us retain the stymie. It is the only scientific and beautiful thing left in the game."

Oak Bay Garden Watering

In an effort to cause the least inconvenience to home owners this summer, it has been decided to leave the matter of restrictions in garden watering up to the common sense of our ratepayers.

You are, therefore, forthwith, strongly requested to limit your watering to three days of your own choice per week, plus Sundays.

As fixed sprinkling systems are heavy users of water all at one time, it is most desirable that they should not be put into operation any day between the hours of 3 p.m. and 9 p.m., including Sundays.

If the above voluntary system is not observed, compulsory regulations will again have to be put in force, to the inconvenience of many concerned.

Can't Decide On New Car

Col. and Mrs. R. Ross Napier, 1247 Montrose, still haven't decided what they are going to do with the new 1951 car the 73-year-old soldier was awarded Wednesday night by the Greater Victoria Celebrations' Association.

Owing to ill-health Colonel Napier does not drive and Mrs. Napier said last night she prefers a smaller car.

"We've been thinking about it for some time, but it's still in our minds," said Mrs. Napier, adding that she and her husband were considering disposing of it within the family.

Class Series For Mothers Starts June 4

A special series of classes for mothers of children to be registered for the Maynard Playground at Cadboro Bay will begin at 8 p.m. June 4 at 617½ Cormorant.

Newly-elected president of the playground committee, Mrs. W. D. Osborne, said Wednesday the classes, to continue through June 6, 8, 11, 13, and 15 will deal with playground supervision.

All mothers in the Cadboro Bay area who plan to register their children for the playground are asked to attend.

Mrs. Osborne was elected at a recent meeting of the playground group held at St. George's Hall. Others were Mrs. John Bunton, vice-president, and Mrs. C. M. Martin, secretary-treasurer.

Leonard Hobbs is chairman and the group is sponsored by the Saanich recreation council.

Joan Crawford to Produce, Star in "Sudden Fear"

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, June 1 (INS).—Joan Crawford, for the first time in her life, is turning producer. She and Joe Kaufman, together, are making "Sudden Fear" at a cost not to exceed $350,000, with Joan as the star. There is no outside money in the deal, and in lieu of salary Joan will get a percentage of the gross.

The way it all happened is interesting. A year ago Joan read "Sudden Fear," by Edna Sherry, and decided she'd like to do it. The book came out about six years ago.

She discovered that Joe Kaufman, co-producer of "Pandora and the Flying Dutchman," owned the rights to the book. She and Kaufman met and decided to make the picture as an independent, starting it some time in the late summer.

FRENCH STAR

Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy are so sure they have another Edith Piaf or Marjane or both in Suzy Delair, they're booking her for night-club appearances before bringing her to Hollywood for their next comedy.

Suzy is the oomphy French actress who just finished "Atoll K" with the comics in France. She's got ziss and zatt, according to the French newspapers, plus being able to act.

Come September, Laurel and Hardy return to Europe to star in a revue that will tour the principal cities of Italy. These zanies are so popular in that country that their old hit, "Fra Diavolo," made 20 years ago, is in its third month at a movie house in Rome.

NO COMMENT

This sincere telegram from Maj Boyd needs no comment from me.

Says Mai: "I sat up until dawn this morning finishing the first draft of the original story which will be based on what prompted my decision to leave my career in Hollywood and New York to enter the service of the Episcopal Church. It is now ready to turn over to Ida Lupino and Collier Young.

"This story means a great deal to me. I am most anxious for it to help influence others to look beyond immediate material goals in this transient life and to find God and the eternal life which He offers.

"I am also hopeful that this story will be the means whereby I can leave my mother a basis of security, as my income will come to a halt for two full years and my savings will be used up paying for my theological education."

LONG WAIT

Richard Denning and Evelyn Ankers waited 8½ years to get that honeymoon to Honolulu they promised themselves when they were married. That's how steadily Dick has been working in pictures and with Lucille Ball on the radio series, "My Favorite Husband."

But about a month ago, they said "to heck with it," packed up, parked their six-year-old daughter with her grandmother, and sailed away to Waikiki Beach.

Well, they got in three weeks before Universal-International cabled Dick to come home for the Van Heflin-Patricia Neal comedy, "Weekend With Father."

RANDOM SNAPSHOTS

You can take it from me there is nothing to the report that Betty Hutton has been dating Greg Bautzer. Betty's heart is elsewhere — so is Greg's.

Director Lew Landers enters St. John's Hospital late next month to have a growth removed from his vocal cord.

A happy holiday twosome at Holiday House were Dorothy Hart and 20th producer Frank Rosenberg.

Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis were given an engagement party by Gloria de Haven at the Versailles. It was a cocktail party since Gloria works nights at the Versailles, and Tony is appearing with his picture, "The Prince Who Was a Thief."

Gloria Stewart's belated birthday present to Jimmy is a 16-mm. print of "Harvey" that he can run on his home projector. "Harvey" is Jimmy's favorite picture.

Mario Lanza helped cook breakfast for 60 of his friends after the premiere of "The Great Caruso." He was so happy that he couldn't get to sleep and all his guests stayed up to celebrate with him.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

The 2 H.P. . . . model invites comparison with any other garden tractor on the market. It has the patented "Quick-Hitch" for attaching front-mounted implements, four-speed transmission with shift lever for quick speed changes, Briggs-Stratton 2 H.P. gasoline engine for speeds up to 5½ miles per hour. Pull-cord starter with automotive-type enclosed transmission and heat-treated, drop-forged bevel gears. "Alemite-Zerk" lubrication throughout.

Chassis is one-piece steel construction. Pneumatic rubber tires 6x12 inches (21" overall). Wheels are reversible and tread width is adjustable from 17" to 22". Clutch action eliminates idler pulley, helps to lengthen life of transmission belt. Handles have comfortable rubber hand grips and are adjustable for height. Tool kit, instruction manual and parts list included.

Show Dogs Bored, Bumptious and Beautiful

Prince Boris VII, regal Borzoi once known as Russian Wolfhound, was a big attraction at 62nd annual staging of Victoria City Kennel Clubs Inc. Sporting All-Breed Championship Show and Obedience Trial which opened at Crystal Garden yesterday. Perfect foil for beautiful women, Prince Boris poses on Crystal lawn with Mrs. Doris Thompson. Doris Dalebaugh of CJVI programs. Borzois owned by Richard MacIntosh, Victoria. — (Colonist Photos by Bud Kinsman.)

It's all in how you look at it. Dogs varied in attitude to show. Most were bored, like sad-eyed English Springer Spaniel, Dalemoor Donald II, owned by Major C. K. Senior Victoria. Inquisitive type on right is none other than Bevan Boru of Glochomorra, a boxer owned by Mrs. T. P. O'Grady. The Boru took first in junior class.

You want to know what I think? Towel swathed midget Waring Glenwood's Scamper, White Scrotham Terrier was one of entrants not bored by it all. He took lively interest in show as fair-sized entry list. Proudly Canadian, went through judging. Show continues today. Peppy Scraeyham is owned by Mrs. G. Strangeways.

Nostalgia Pageant Keynote

By RAY BAINES

A sharply-defined historical contrast on the stage and nostalgia in the audience were keynotes of a bright Victoria High School pageant last night.

With costumes, pictures and song many an old graduate was wafted back through time to days that fell near the beginning, the middle and the end of the school's 75-year history.

[illegible] the efforts of a talented group of young men and girls, [illegible] several neat [illegible] tableaux [illegible] were [illegible] by Miss [illegible] Hall, [illegible] Dick [illegible] [illegible] groups of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Pegg, [illegible] and [illegible].

To the teen-agers they were funny people in their costumes, but to others they were real and wonderful.

[illegible] part of the program were cleverly arranged to follow the period's progress.

SONG, DANCE

After the first period narrated by Mr. Dingwall, a song by Lloyd Llewellyn, dance by the "Lancers" and a very authentically-costumed barber shop quartet set the mood.

A pretty young lady, named Julie Lee, with a sweet voice and lots of 19th century gown, then gave tutorial to the expression "the good old days."

The second pictured era, 1902 to 1929, was followed by musical salutes to the period, including excerpts from Rose Marie, sung by as stalwart a group of red-coated Mounties as could be found anywhere.

Then followed the modern times of 1929 to 1951 with appropriate song and dance.

A [illegible] dance featuring a [illegible] [illegible] Victoria High [illegible] had the title "A Study in Lines." As the young ladies [illegible] through the [illegible] of the [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Married at First United Church

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Spencer Peat pictured following their marriage last Saturday at First United Church. The bride is the former Patricia Morris Robertson, daughter of Mrs. A. D. Robertson, and the groom is the son of Mrs. S. S. Peat. Pictured with the couple are Mrs. Donald D. Wilson, who attended the bride, and Mr. Alan E. Jones, the best man.

Seattle and Portland Honeymoon For Couple Wed at First United

Langford will be the new home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Le Quesne who were married Friday evening at First United Church. Rev. Douglas B. Cairns officiated at the ceremony uniting Joan Lorraine Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Murray Mitchell, 308 Uganda Avenue, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Le Quesne, 62 Leigh Road, Langford.

Mrs. R. Reed played the 'Bridal Chorale' during the signing of the register.

The bride wore white supper satin styled with a net yoke and narrow pleated satin over the bustline and on the deep skirt panel to the back. She was attended by Miss Joanne Bell, a bridesmaid, who wore a floor-length gown of pink net and satin. A rhinestone coronet held her full-length illusion veil, and she carried a colonial bouquet of red roses and ivy of the valley. She wore her mother's sapphire pendant.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Jim Mason, wore a pink net dress styled with bracelet length sleeves and topped with a short matching cape. She wore a bandeau of pink flowers and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses, baby breath and carnations.

Mr. Le Quesne's best man was Mr. Jim Mason, and Mr. John Mitchell and Mr. Jim Dean were ushers.

The reception was held in Terry's Rose Room, where 100 guests were received by Mr. Percy Bates, and assisted by Mrs. Bates. Mr. and Mrs. Bates received the bride's guests during the afternoon, and were assisted with serving by Miss Joan Mitchell and Miss Joan Dean.

Leaving on a honeymoon to Seattle and Portland, the bride changed into a grey suit with orchid accessories and corsage of Johanna Hill roses.

Weavers Advance Plans For Annual Exhibition

Plans for the Annual National Exhibition of Hand Weaving being held in the Empress Hotel, July 5, 6 and 7, are well advanced, as reported by the exhibition's convener, Mrs. Sydney Pickles, at the May meeting of the Victoria Hand Weavers' Guild. It is expected that the Hon. W. T. Straith, Minister of Education, will open the exhibition on the afternoon of the 5th. Arrangements are being made to have looms in operation showing the process of weaving, and also to have spinning wheels working to demonstrate the making of yarns. The 80 weaving guilds of Newfoundland are hoping to send a representative exhibit and there will be exhibits from other guilds in various other provinces.

Mrs. Hodson, the president, was in the chair and was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for the use of her home for the birthday tea and many congratulations on receiving the award from Mortimer for the best piece of weaving in the Canadian Handicrafts Guild exhibition of Weaving. Members were much pleased that their exhibit at the Hobby Show had been awarded a ribbon for the best group display. Mrs. J. L. White read an interesting letter from Mrs. Frances Clark, a member now in Bocum, describing her visit to the Textile Exhibition in London.

It was announced that articles for the exhibition in July must be in the hands of the Standards Committee for judging not later than June 26, the date of the next meeting. Mrs. Hodson gave a short talk on "Standards" and urged the members to show as much of their work as possible, so that the local club would be well represented.

To Buy Records For Destroyers

The Esquimalt Women's Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Navy will raise funds to buy [illegible] gramaphone records for the destroyers serving in Korea and other ships of the Pacific Command.

A gospel [illegible] under the direction of Mrs. J. E. Wilson, will be held at the [illegible] Bames College, Read Estate, on Tuesday, June 5.

Alice Schier Is Bride At Metropolitan United

At a double ring ceremony at Metropolitan United Church on Friday evening, Alice Marguerite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Schier of Tyvan, Sask., exchanged vows with David James Lambrick, son of Mrs. K. G. Lambrick, 1702 Kings Road, and the late Mr. L. J. Lambrick, with Rev. Dr. A. E. Whitemore reading the nuptial service in a setting of cream summer flowers. The bride wore in a gown of white satin and lace fashioned with off-shoulder neckline outlined with pearls, lily point sleeves and semi-hooped skirt with train, was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Stanley Johnston. Her full length veil was held by a satin halo embroidered with pearls. She wore the groom's gift, a double strand of pearls and carried a bouquet of red roses and stephanotis.

The only attendant was her sister, Miss Anne Johnston wearing pink nylon trimmed with tulle and carrying a bouquet of pink gerbera, with head dress of matching tulle to match.

The bridegroom had his brother, Mr. Arnold Lambrick as best man while Mr. John Edge and Mr. Ross Hannay ushered.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, [illegible] Road.

For a honeymoon trip to Portland the bride wore a cream gabardine suit with white shantung coat, navy and white hat, and a gardenia corsage.

The couple will make their home in Victoria.

Uncle Wiggily Story - - - By Howard Garis

JOLLIE AND JILLIE

As Uncle Wiggily watched the brother mouse of Jumpie Umpie coming toward him, the rabbit gentleman saw that, except for one thing, the two yellow mice were just alike. That one thing was the tail of Tumble Downie. He really had no tail—just a stump about an inch long. The tail should have been like Jumpie Umpie's tail—five inches long.

Then, as Uncle Wiggily watched, he saw the brother mouse jump up in the air as the other yellow creature was doing. But alas! Likewise sorrowfulness! No sooner did Tumble Downie jump than he turned a somersault, over and over, and down he fell. He did this two or three times before he reached Uncle Wiggily sitting on the stump.

"Pleased to meet you, Uncle Wiggily," said Tumble Downie politely. "My brother, Jumpie Umpie, and I have read about you in the story books."

"I have read about you mice in nature books," answered Uncle Wiggily, also politely. "You are called Jumping Mice," but this is the first time I have ever met any of you. I hope you did not hurt yourself when you turned those somersaults, Tumble Downie."

"Oh, no, I didn't hurt myself. I am used to tumbling down like the clowns in a circus. It's because I have no tail, the reason that I fall, tumble and somersault when I try to jump. I have no tail, you see, Uncle Wiggily. It's only a stump," said Tumble Downie.

"So I see," answered the rabbit uncle. "I understand it is a sad story—about you having only a stump for a tail."

"It was sad the time it happened, said Tumble Downie. "But I am sort of used to it now."

"If you don't mind telling me, how did you lose your tail?"

"I didn't exactly lose my tail, Uncle Wiggily," answered Tumble Downie. "It was cut off."

"Oh, how dreadful!" exclaimed Mr. Longears. "Who could be so unkind as to cut off your tail?"

"He didn't mean to do it," answered the stump-tailed mouse. "It was a farmer. He was cutting hay in a field with a mowing machine. I heard it coming but I did not jump out of the way in time. I could easily have done it, for, when I had my tail, I could jump 10 feet. But the mowing machine was upon me before I knew it and—Zip! Off came my lovely tail."

"It must have hurt dreadfully," said Uncle Wiggily kindly.

"It did, at first," admitted Tumble Downie. "But my mother tied a green leaf around the stump and soon it stopped bleeding and stopped hurting. I was sad, though, when I found I could no longer jump like my brother. I just have to tumble and somersault my way around."

"That is why I always stay with my brother," explained Jumpie Umpie. "I don't jump too far when he and I go on journeys together."

"That is jolly kind of you," said Uncle Wiggily. "But you said, Jumpie Umpie, that you came to visit your cousins, Jollie and Jillie Longtail, here in Woodland."

"Yes, my brother and I would like to see our cousins," said Jumpie Umpie. "Do you know where they live?"

"Yes, I do," answered Uncle Wiggily. "I will take you to Jollie and Jillie and also to see Squeakie Eckie."

"Who is Squeakie Eckie?" asked Tumble Downie.

"She is a cousin mouse—that is, Squeakie Eckie is a cousin to Jollie and Jillie, and also a cousin to you two yellow mice," said Mr. Longears. "If you will come with me, I will take you to the Longtails' house. It isn't far from here."

"That's good," said Tumble Downie. "For I am such a slow poke that it will take me a long time, short as the journey is."

"Ha! I just have a fine idea!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily.

What fine idea Uncle Wiggily had will be told in the next story if the egg beater doesn't whip the cream so hard that it jumps out of the bowl and hides under the table.

Daily Astrology

By RITA DEL MAR

For SATURDAY, JUNE 2, 1951.

Today's Quotation: "Wear your learning, like your watch, in a private pocket; and do not pull it out and strike it, merely to show that you have one." Lord Chesterfield.

Saturday for everyone: Be active, resourceful and sociable; circulate freely, especially in the evening. See elders. The daytime is conducive to bargain hunting and for making your home or base more comfortable.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below.

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Count the costs before embarking on any new projects in morning. Enjoy some sociability; make purchases in afternoon.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Adapt yourself since alterations are called for today. Seek recognition; be expressive in afternoon.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Lend a hand to those in need; ask them to reciprocate if you require aid. Relax, rest in evening.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—Bring your objectives to the attention of those who can aid you; be with stimulating folks in afternoon.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—Your efforts will be noted by higher-ups, so be diligent. Seek their favor in afternoon.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo)—Adopt a cheery outlook; contact persons you are fond of in afternoon. Make plans, decisions then.

September 23 to October 22 (Libra)—Seek teamwork in financial matters in afternoon. Attend to accounts, benefit through the resources of others.

October 23 to November 21 (Scorpio)—You benefit by wise plans; use your head. Make necessary journeys, important contacts in afternoon.

November 22 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Be conscientious in the performance of duties. Grasp opportunities; strengthen prestige in afternoon.

December 22 to January 19 (Capricorn)—Take no chances in morning. Work on a cherished interest; make headway with it in the afternoon.

January 20 to February 18 (Aquarius)—Seek to promote home, family, property matters; get some issues concluded, particularly in afternoon.

February 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Keep opinions flexible; they are subject to revision. Seek to get a lot done in the afternoon.

Planning ahead — Good for sociability, entertaining, etc.: June 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 11.

Fire Menaces Quebec Village

LA REINE, Que., June 1 (CP)—Residents of this Northern Quebec village near the Ontario border anxiously watched tonight the dull red glow of a forest fire only 15 miles distant.

Many had not slept since glowing embers began sifting down on their homes yesterday. This morning, after a sleepless night spent spraying their houses with water, all 1,350 villagers went to church to pray.

Light rains through the night and northwest winds later helped hold the fire back.

The 10,000-acre blaze has raged out of control for three days.

Police Clash With Strikers

AUCKLAND, N.Z., June 1 (Reuters)—Baton-waving police and angry striking longshoremen clashed violently today to bring Auckland's four-month-old dock labor war right out into the open again.

The scrap started when 1,500 parading longshoremen attacked a police cordon with their fists and poles to which their slogan banners were attached.

About 200 police waded in, smashing the parade and leaving 12 injured, nine of them watersiders.

Three longshoremen were arrested and charged with disorderly behavior, resisting and assaulting police and inciting lawlessness.

Weighed down by the costliest labor dispute in New Zealand's history, the government had just started getting things back to normal in the docks by bringing in troops and new labor.

The strike began February 13 when employers refused the men a 24½ cent-an-hour wage boost. Cabinet ministers branded it a Communist plot.

Within ten days the government had outlawed the old union, instituted wide powers of arrest and this week it had 3,300 troops handling shipping.

DERBY, England (CP)—A new Diesel locomotive on its first trial was smashed when it ran into the rear of a standing coach. The fireman and engineer were slightly injured.

Answer to Yesterday's Puzzle

(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

A resolution was passed back, ing the Coalition in the by-election.

A further resolution was approved urging the Government for an adjournment in hospital insurance rates for pensioners on low fixed incomes.

Clifford Kirkham Heads Esquimalt Liberal Camp

Clifford Kirkham, of View Royal, was elected president of the Esquimalt Provincial Liberal Association at the annual meeting Wednesday at Langford. He succeeds Andrew Motherwell, of Cobble Hill.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and Premier Byron Johnson were named honorary presidents.

Other officers elected included Roy Wellwood, Esquimalt, first vice-president; B. J. De Rochie, Sooke, second vice-president; B. F. Day, M.B.E., of View Royal, secretary-treasurer; Ernest H. Emory, Colwood, auditor.

WANT COMMITTEE

The meeting voted that the executive name a special committee to negotiate with Esquimalt Conservatives to fix a date for a joint nominating convention which is to name a candidate for the forthcoming by-election.

The meeting ruled out a suggestion that the association should set a date for its own nominating convention before conferring with Conservatives.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 D	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 D	Pass	4 D	Pass
6 D	Pass	Pass	Pass

North's raise to four diamonds, on his barren distribution, was scarcely to be commended—he should have stuck to his no-trump responding—but, as it happened, his diamond support should have turned out excellently.

Of course, with a heart lead South would have been helpless at six diamonds, but it was South's good fortune that West had a more natural club lead.

South, after winning with the blank ace of clubs, cashed the ace and king of trumps, obviously hoping to drop the jack. Had he done so, dummy's third trump would have become an entry, and South would have taken all the tricks. When, however, East showed out on the second trump lead, it became impossible to reach dummy, and South ended up conceding one spade and two hearts, for a two-trick set.

Favored as he was by the club lead, South should have taken a shrewder and more realistic view about the way to reach dummy for discards on the three top clubs! It was all right to cash the ace of trumps, but then South should have led a low trump to dummy! (The four to the seven, or the eight to the nine.) If the jack came up on this trick, well and good; South could control any return lead and enter dummy for another trump, to discard his three losers on the clubs. If West, for any reason, refused to put up the trump jack on the second lead, South would be in dummy, and he could discard his three losers immediately.

2 LATE 2 CLASSIFY

USED "BEATTY" WASHER with plungers. This is an enormous brute, traded in by a lady with a copper bottom. If you have 9 kids & only a washboard, this is just the thing to hide in the basement. It sure plunges out the dirt tho, & you can have it for only $25.

EXCHANGE . . . one mouth organ . . . sucking notes all gone. Only persons with 10 cu. ft. lung capacity need apply. Would exchange for what have you???

THIS looks like a picnic table with benches, but it has an Arborite plastic top, and the 2 red plastic seated benches fold under when not in use. We should get $69 for these, but only $39 for one today. They are brand new. Quite frankly they were a flop.

LOST . . . One wig . . . belongs to one of our customers. It blew away without his consent . . . Answers to the name of "Claude."

USED C & W RANGE. This one is a beauty, & to make it even more attractive it's set up on a round pedestal so U can get your feet under. There are 2 warming ovens . . . one for the dishes, the other to warm your nightie. It's a 2-tone job, sparkling clean. $65.00.

McCLARY USED C & W RANGE . . . white enamel, in good condition. $95.00.

LOST ON QUADRA ST. . . . near Ball Park. Upper dentures . . . left bi-cuspid broken. By one of our loose-customers. Sentimental value. Answers to name of "Towser."

FOUND . . . $10 . . . YES . . . It's like finding $10 when you give us your old beat-up kitchen set as part payment on any new glittering chrome outfit in the house. We don't even want to see it . . . there are NO strings attached. You get the glitter, we get the litter . . . so come see us eh???

A CLIENT in here just now told us he was looking for a lady clerk. "I was her smart," he sed. ". . . but not too smart."

GIBSON FRIG . . . 9 cu. ft. with door to the floor . . . at pre-Abbott price of $399. This is brand new with only 3 moving parts. Gee . . . but it's silent . . . shhuuuush . . . see . . . you can't even hear it. 5-year guarantee.

A MUSICIAN friend of ours has asked if we could locate him a pair of bow legs. He's just taken up the 'cello. Anybody in the audience got such things??? Don't fiddle around, just give us a buzz.

The codfish lays ten thousands eggs,
The homely hen lays one;
The codfish never cackles,
To tell you what she's done.
And so we scorn the codfish,
And the homely hen we prize;
Which demonstrates to you & me,
It pays to advertise.

Accused Will Face Trial In False Pretences Case

Clifford W. Knibbs, 1536 Bank, charged in city police court yesterday with obtaining $735 by false pretenses from Miss Zillah Hall, 74, Shawnigan Lake, was remanded to Tuesday for committal to higher court.

According to evidence at the preliminary trial, Knibbs was asked to repair a house owned by Miss Hall at 2322 Shakespeare. Mrs. Anne Bowden, 746 Middleton, acted for Miss Hall.

Mrs. Bowden said Knibbs told her the house needed a new concrete foundation and porch and had to be moved 25 feet. Price of the work was set at $2,273.

MATTER OF PERMIT

After numerous meetings with Knibbs and Miss Hall, $735 was paid. Then, according to Mrs. Bowden, she discovered Knibbs had not taken out a building permit for the job but only one for $150 for minor repairs.

"You have come by $735 by false pretenses and I want it back," she said she told Knibbs.

Other witnesses were her husband, H. A. Bowden, Miss Hall, J. W. Oosterink, city building inspector, and William Jörgensen, assistant building inspector.

Mr. Oosterink said he had issued a building permit for $150 but it was "later on."

DRIVER FINED

Robert W. Martindale, 1314 Balmoral, was fined $35 on a charge of careless driving, following an accident May 19.

Dennis John Carroll, R.C.A.F., actual bodily harm, was remanded to June 8 without plea. He was released in custody of his superior officer.

Many Invited To Opening Of Power Site

More than 250 representatives of Government, municipalities, farm groups, public organizations and business have been invited to the formal opening of the Whatshan hydro development on Lower Arrow Lake June 28.

Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney will formerly dedicate the Whatshan plant to the people of the North Okanagan, Kamloops and Lower Arrow Lake.

The project—with an initial capacity of 33,000 horsepower—will serve 14,000 customers in the 20 fast-growing centres.

S. R. Weston, B.C. Power Commission chairman, Gen. W. W. Foster and Forrest L. Shaw, commissioners, will reach Vernon June 27. They will travel by chartered buses to Whatshan with an R.C.M.P. escort.

A commission statement said facilities at Whatshan are limited, making it necessary to curtail the invitation list.

Mark Birthday

The First Colquitz Guides celebrated their 19th birthday on Wednesday at a party at the home of Mrs. Speller, association president.

A camp craft badge and four-year star were presented to Jennifer Woodward and a 19-year star to Miss Sheffield, acting captain. Mrs. King, Saanich divisional commissioner, cut the decorated cake.

Thousands Turn Out To Opening

Greater Victoria residents turned out in the thousands last night to the official opening of the Tillicum Outdoor Theatre.

Approximately 700 cars filled the 20-acre parking space and an unknown number were turned away.

Saanich police had seven constables on duty to direct traffic.

The opening was scheduled for 9 p.m., but by 8.30 the drive-in was full and police were turning cars back in a steady stream.

At 10 p.m., would-be patrons were still arriving.

Later, harassed Max Chechik, co-owner of the theatre, estimated that roughly 2,000 persons had been admitted, about 1,600 in cars and the remainder in indoor and outdoor seating accommodation.

OPENED BY REEVE

The theatre was officially opened by Reeve Joseph Casey of Saanich, accompanied by Ald. Frank Mulliner of Victoria and Thomas Denny, vice-president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Following the opening, patrons watched newsreels and shorts until about 10 p.m., listening in from individual loudspeakers hooked onto each car, and then saw a fireworks display before the beginning of the main feature, Danny Kaye in "The Inspector General."

Approximately $1,000 worth of play equipment for children and adults had arrived, but had not been set up, Mr. Chechik said.

Operating last night, however, and definitely in demand, according to Mr. Chechik, was the babies' bottle-warming service in the refreshment building.

"Walk-in" patrons are accommodated in a sound-proof auditorium with six large windows, normally seating 132 persons.

Normal car capacity, also taxed last night, is 620.

The screen, carrying a picture 57 by 43 feet, is built to witstand winds of up to 90 miles an hour.

LONDON (CP)—A popular British radio program on the American crime-buster style has been replaced by one more up-to-date. It deals with the adventures of an inter-planetary detective in a space ship.

Payments To Jobless At Low Ebb

Fewer persons now are receiving unemployment insurance benefits in the Victoria area than at any time in the past four years.

C. A. Mudge, manager of the Victoria office of the National Employment Service, reported yesterday the number registered for employment was continuing to decline in this area.

Some difficulty is being experienced in meeting employer requirements, he said.

The demand for young, physically fit men for general laboring work has been heavy, with many jobs available outside of the city and summer laboring jobs on tap in Victoria.

Other vacancies were for hook tenders, bus drivers, lathe hands, loftsmen, sign painters, moulders, riveter and sheet metal worker for high buildings.

Also needed are seamen, experienced and inexperienced, for both coastal and deep-sea service.

Regional Planning Board Start Seen; Saanich, Esquimalt In Favor of Move

Establishment of a regional planning board by the Department of Municipal Affairs over at least a part of Greater Victoria may come soon.

When the Victoria City Council first asked Municipal Affairs Minister R. C. MacDonald to establish such a board, he said he was in favor of the idea, but it would depend on the views of other municipalities.

[illegible] the city in requesting a regional planning board.

Esquimalt Council voted its approval of the plan recently. Municipal Clerk J. W. Allan said yesterday he will write Mr. MacDonald to that effect.

Oak Bay and Central Saanich did not disapprove of the plan, but felt it would be of no benefit to their municipalities.

An Oak Bay official said the council felt that his municipality's own peculiar problems could best be handled by its own planning commission.

He said Oak Bay would be willing, however, to co-operate with the city and other municipalities in projects of mutual benefit.

[illegible] a recent Central Saanich Council meeting. Reeve Sydney Pickles said any decisions made by a regional board might not apply to Central Saanich because it is a rural area.

The matter was tabled pending a report from the municipal solicitor on the Town Planning Act.

Mr. MacDonald said earlier that if any municipality wished to be excluded, his department might go ahead with the establishment of a board anyway, covering the city and the remaining municipalities.

If any municipality wished to come in at a later date, that could be arranged, he said.
